Dear Cynthia:

Congratulations on obtaining your National EMS Certification at the Emergency Medical Responder level. You've completed a rigorous training and testing process – an accomplishment you should be proud of. Your National Registry Certification signifies to the public and your peers that you are committed to the safety and protection of the community you serve, and patients can trust that you have demonstrated competency at the national level.

Here are a few things that will help you through your journey as a Nationally Certified EMR.

- Your credentials are in the app and online! Your National Registry ID card is available on the app (iOS and Android) and it is available in your online account at www.nremt.org
- Follow us on social media. We have tips, reminders and useful content that will keep you on track for recertification. We're on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, YouTube and LinkedIn.
- State license is different than National Registry. Successfully obtaining National Registry certification does not grant you the right to practice. You must obtain a state-issued license in order to legally practice. Contact your state EMS office for more information.

Enclosed are a few important items that celebrate your accomplishment.

- Certificate for display
- Embroidered patch with the seal of the National Registry. Wear it with pride!
- Additional merchandise is available for purchase at the National Registry store on our website at www.nremt.org

I wish you a rewarding, long, safe tenure in your EMS career and extend a sincere thank you for supporting the mission of the National Registry of EMTs.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "William Seifarth".

William Seifarth
Executive Director
