Group Assignments and Activity (SEE MODULE 16)

Below are the activities in which you will engage when you organize into your groups to discuss and complete assignments. These assignments are already listed on the Tentative Dates to Remember. However, you will receive an individual grade for actively participating in the groups to complete the assignments. Because your collaboration in groups is so vital to your success not only in this classroom, but to your career and absolute survival, the group communication assignments will be evaluated as a MAJOR SPEECH assessment with a highest possible score of 100%

By the end of this group activity, you will be able to

- Manage your own learning
- Lead conversations

- negotiate with others on differences of opinions
- Examine perspectives of others
- manage different personalities of others
- Plan and Manage time
- share thoughts and accept constructive criticism
- Collaborate with others to achieve a common good
- Comprehend information through shared discussion
