What challenges does a current day Peeler face?

Current day Peelers face the modern-day climate of the world. When Sir Robert Peel created those principles, he never imagined that the police force now would deal with terrorism, public unrest, and gang violence. Majority of the current day law enforcement challenges is with the public. Therefore, these principals wouldn't work today. The principals that state, where their needs to be an established relationship between police and public, is what can't apply today because of the many protests the public has to have against the police. In principle 3 and 4 it explains how the police need to cooperate with the public and the public needs to cooperate with the police, however, due to many corrupt law enforcements coming out into the light and a public showing of police brutality on certain groups of people. The public cooperating with the police is hard to achieve because of the fear and hatred the public has towards law enforcement.
