

Trinity Gallman
Oral communications
08/26/2020
Speech

Brown paper bag speech

When I first saw the module for the Brown paper bag speech; honestly, I was lost. My mind literally went blank until read the example. Immediately after I knew exactly what five items I wanted to compare or to represent myself. Personally I tried to think outside of the box because I didn't want to have the same items as my fellow classmates so here's my items.

The first item in my bag would have to be a safety pin. Whenever I am around my friends things go smoothly. However if I am not around my friends things can and will go from operating smooth to beyond chaotic in a matter of seconds. Another reason I chose a safety pin was for the smallest detail. The sharp point because not only do I hold the friendship together I would like to believe that I'm the sharpest one in the group.

The second thing in my bag would most definitely be a sour patch kid. Everyone knows a the slogan "first they're sour then they're sweet" and let me just say it fits me perfectly. When people first meet me they tend to say things like "you look so mean" or "you come off as a very rude person" although those things are true. Yes I'll admit to it. Once you get to know me and actually pay attention to my personality I'm one of the nicest most caring people you can possibly come across.

This next one may seem a little off the wall or out of the box but I picked sunshine. Although I can't physically put it in my bag it describes me to perfectly not to include it. Sunshine can literally appear out of nowhere and brighten up a gloomy day. My personality is exactly the same I could enter a room and change the entire mood if I chose to do so.

Another must have would be spices. I compare myself to spices because a little bit of my other side adds a little flare. However too much of my other side will literally rock the boat. Sadly, not only will it rock the boat it may just rock, flip, and sink the boat all at once. So word of advice treat other how you want to be treated.

Lastly a sponge, yes I know it's sound a little crazy but allow me to explain. A sponge will absorb pretty much whatever it is put into. So with me I easily absorb information that I feel and is important and retain it. I tend to listen more than I speak simply because I learn better by observing my surroundings.

This brown is a per bag speech took me some time to actually figure out what would be the most accurate items. After coming up with my items I realized things about myself that I wouldn't have before doing this assignment. It personally helped me understand who I am more and be more open about it.