To lay a foundation for reading the Pentateuch, write a brief definition of the following terms. Explain their relationship to the Hebrew Culture, and how the understanding of each helps Bible students today.

It is true, that we can read and understand what is written. However, due to the nature of what we are reading it is imperative that foundation is laid to thoroughly understand the text. We also must pay attention to order and have some contextual background of the text. Canaan is the promise land that Moses was to lead the people who were held in bondage in Egypt, into. I utilized Bibleorg.com, to give explanation to external and internal evidence. "External evidence is taken the historical material and seeing if it confirms or denies the internal testimony (what is written in the word). This consideration, is taken apart from the literature and under analysis which substantiates, its accuracy, reliability and authentic." Ketuvim is the final section of the Tanak and its right after Torah. It is made up of entitled writings. It is comprised of 11 books that are said to be written under divine inspiration. Neviim is the 2nd main division and divides between the former and later prophets. The Pentateuch, Torah, Law are the first 5 books of the bible. They are very important and instruction for the life of a believer. These books also contain the commandments, which lists what we should and should not do as Christians.
