

1. Potential Problems to face during research at the library I visited was there wasn't an abundance of books physically available. The selection there sufficient from a variety standpoint though.

2. The staff was very good and courteous from my entering, they walked me through the section I needed to use. They were knowledgeable about the section and had an alternative for the site used to access the online journals.

3. The resources were easy to use, the search for Christian scholarly journals gave over 200,000 options dating back to 1804. The journal stacks gave 56,649.

I found an article related to Christian education called " Why consider a Christian college."
