

Beulah Heights University

Week 2: Writing Assignment #1

ATh 115 Foundations for University Life and Ministry

by

Cedric Nelson

2/2/20

Using the 5 paragraph (including 1 paragraph introduction, 3 paragraphs body, 1 paragraph conclusion) essay format write an essay discussing the three styles of writing (Turabian, APA, MLA) giving examples of which classes would utilize these styles.

There are three styles of writing, Turabian, APA, and MLA. There is no better one than the other, but each one is use for a specific writer. In this paper I will the discuss the difference of each one and I will give examples of each one being utilize in each class. Before I'm finished, you will have a good detail introduction these three writing styles.

First, we have the Turabian writing style. Also known as the Chicago Manual of Style. This style is a great choice for editors in many academic fields, book publishers, and in the humanities and social sciences. It covers from source citations, editing and proofreading. Because of its detail of coverage, most classes would use this if they were writing a journal, blog, novel or short story.

Then, we have the Modern Language Association writing style. It's also called the MLA. This writing style mainly focus on how to cite sources. This form of writing style is used by students who write papers on theater or film. An example of this writing style would be used in writing a script for a movie.

APA is short for American Psychological Association. It's great for scholarly writing because it helps writers share their ideas in a transparent, detailed, and comprehensive manner. It's regularly used to cite sources in education, psychology and the social sciences. In these areas, you will need to be able to stay focus on getting your thoughts across without paying attention to the formatting. An example of APA would be a textbook for a science class.

In conclusion, each style of writing is highly received across the world. What matters the most is the type of writing your completing. There isn't a right or wrong when it comes to choosing your writing style, but it would help you achieve your goal in the end. Even though they all are different. They all have one thing in common. To cite other people, work, protects you from plagiarism. This is a common problem we have in all forms of writing. All of these writing style protect us from not crediting our sources.

Reference Page

CMOS Shop Talk. Chicago, MLA, APA, AP:What's the Difference?. Retrieved on Dec. 1, 2109. Published on February 19, 2019.

<https://cmosshoptalk.com/2019/02/19/chicago-mla-apa-ap-whats-the-difference/>

