

The Church Universal and The Kingdom of God

- I. Introduction
- II. The Church Universal
- III. The Kingdom of God
- IV. The Church in the Kingdom
- V. The Basis for the Two
- VI. Conclusion

Introduction

The Church Universal is the body of universal believers who belong to Christ, which pertain to both the Universal and local Church. In essence the local Church is a small version of the Universal Church, and it must operate much like the Universal Church in its character. This body is invisible and it grows constantly, on a daily basis in all its aspects. The growth of the Universal community of believers grows in number, and in quality with its support and ability to sustain by the Lord Jesus Christ. Christ is the headship over the Universal Church which was founded and built on Him and His Apostles, which is recorded in the book of the “Acts of the Holy Spirit in the Church of Jesus Christ through Gods People.” The Church was born in the New Testament, and isn’t a continuation of Israel as the disciples were looking to be restored upon asking before Jesus ascended, post resurrection. The Kingdom of God on the other hand is very essential in the reality of the end times and the return of the Savior for all who will eternally be with the Father. The word Kingdom means along with kingship, reigning royally, involves sovereign authority, ruler ship, and dominion. The Kingdom of God also called the Kingdom of Heaven has various views, and involves various times, spheres, purposes and different forms.

God reigns supreme, everlasting kingdom, and dominion endures throughout all generations.

Aim : To show the establishment, and principles of both these theological concepts.

Thesis : The Kingdom of God is made up of many bodies that all coincide to bring all the honor, glory, and power to God and includes the Universal Church.