2012). Self-Awareness The conscious knowledge of one's own character, feelings, motives, and desires. -----

Effective leaders are the same in one important way: They all possess an abundance of emotional intelligence. Without emotional intelligence, a person can have the best opportunities in life, great ideas, and a creative mind, a keen, but he still won't make a great leader. The elements of emotional intelligence are self-awareness, self-regulation, motivation, empathy, and social skill (Taylor, Rosenbach, & Youndt, 2012).

Self-Awareness The conscious knowledge of one's own character, feelings, motives, and desires.

Self-Regulation The ability to dominate or divert disruptive sudden desires and emotions.

Motivation A dedication to work for motives that go past money or position.

Empathy The ability to understand and share the feelings of another.

Social Skills Interpersonal or soft skills used to communicate with others.
