

Respiratory Class Preparation Day 2

Medication Review

1. Your client has recently started on montelukast (Singulair) for allergic rhinitis. You know that it is important to monitor what for this client?
 - a. Renal function
 - b. Blood pressure
 - c. Liver function
 - d. Heart rate
2. You should instruct a client using phenylephrine spray for nasal congestion to do which of the following to avoid rebound congestion?
 - a. Limit the drug's use to 3 to 5 days.
 - b. Add an intranasal glucocorticoid.
 - c. Taper the dose before discontinuation.
 - d. Restrict the drug's use to one nostril at a time.
3. You anticipate that your client with a dry, hacking cough would be prescribed which of the following medications?
 - a. Fluticasone
 - b. Dextromethorphan
 - c. Amoxicillin
 - d. Diphenhydramine
4. You educate your patient these are common side effects of diphenhydramine, a first-generation antihistamine:
 - a. Diarrhea
 - b. Insomnia
 - c. Dry mouth, constipation
 - d. Rash
5. During assessment, the nurse notes that the patient with acute pharyngitis has a thick, white coating on their tongue. Which medication do they anticipate giving to treat?
 - a. Amphotericin B
 - b. Azithromycin
 - c. Prednisone
 - d. Nystatin
6. List the four drugs that are considered the initial treatment regimen of choice for patients newly diagnosed with tuberculosis: _____
7. Prompt treatment with what medication is essential to resolving bacterial pneumonia?
 - a. Bronchodilator
 - b. Antipyretic
 - c. Corticosteroid
 - d. Antibiotic
8. A client diagnosed with sinusitis is newly prescribed a steroid nasal spray. The nurse includes which of the following in their teaching?
 - a. Systemic side effects are common
 - b. Should be used on a regular basis, not PRN
 - c. Use care operating machinery and driving
 - d. Take on empty stomach