

Independent Assignment

Abnormal/Interrupted Fetal Development

1. What are the clinical manifestations for an ectopic pregnancy?

Clinical manifestations for an ectopic pregnancy include:

- | | |
|--------------------|---------------------|
| -N/V | -Shoulder pain |
| -Breast tenderness | -Internal bleeding |
| -Missing period | -Fainting/dizziness |
| -Abd pain | -Cullens sign |
| -Spotting | -Unstable VS |

2. What is a hydatidiform mole (molar pregnancy)

Hydatidiform mole is when the complete fetus never forms or is a partially abnormal fetus.

3. What are the manifestation of a molar pregnancy and are there are any complications you should know for follow up care?

Manifestations of a molar pregnancy include:

- | | |
|-------------------|---------------|
| -Vaginal bleeding | -Preeclampsia |
| -N/V | -hCG |
| -Enlarged uterus | - No FHTs |

Complications could include:

- Choriocarcinoma is a cancer that can metastasize
- Tx is chemo, hysterectomy if invasive to tissues, tx until hCG is neg, and you need contraception while being tx