

1. Why do you suppose agricultural production occurs within regions?

There are different amount of resources in different areas.

2. Compared to the rest of the world, is food in the United States expensive or inexpensive? Explain your reasoning.

The United States is less expensive because we spend 6.4 percent of income on food.