

Water Story

Water travels in all ecosystems. The water has 5 locations on where it can travel to. It can travel to precipitation, atmosphere, groundwater, surface, and organism. Water comes in three forms which are, solid, liquid, and gas.

I'm a raindrop in a gentle mist surrounding the town of Fruitvale. I'm falling from the sky as a liquid, and it's called precipitation. After I fall from the sky as a liquid, I evaporate back into the clouds.

When I and all the other raindrops evaporated, the clouds become very heavy. So a dark and menacing cloud was over Fruitvale now. This is up in the atmosphere, and clouds are gas. After a while, it got below freezing degrees outside.

Hailstone bouncing off the Eden Agriculture Chemical Company smoke stacks. I am precipitating, and I am also a solid. When it started to get warmer again I melted, and I went into the ground as groundwater.

Soon I was being pumped up into the city water well. Right now I'm groundwater, and I'm being pumped up as a liquid. They pump me out of the ground, they put me in a big bowl, and we ride over to a swimming pool.

Finally they dump me into a swimming pool in Fruitvale. I'm right at the surface as a liquid. And then I runoff, out of the swimming pool. But then I get infiltration, and get dumped right back into the swimming pool. After that I get percolation, and I get filtered all over the pool with chemicals.

After a while, somebody came swimming in the pool, and I got sucked into her mouth, and she swallowed me. Then she got sweat pores on her forehead, and there was condensation on her face as well. I'm on an organism, and I'm a liquid and a gas. After she took a shower the transpiration was all over her body.

This is how water can get passed from place to place. Also this could on for a very long time, because the water drops keep getting passed on.
