

Mustang

The mustang eats hay and/or oats and meat. The mustang is not fully developed until the age of 5.

The horse can breed in captivity. The mustang live in groups called herds, the group has one alpha male.

Giant Panda

The panda eats bamboo, and small critters.

The panda is fully grown at the age 6 to 7 years old.

The panda has the ability to breed in captivity.

The disposition living alone when not breeding time

The panda has a mild temperament.

The panda likes to be alone, the mother raises her cubs by herself. Is in danger because of destruction of habitat.

Elephant

The elephant lives in herds, or groups
The elephant eat grass and other plants
The elephants are in danger because of illegal
Ivory Trade

