

Activity 3.1.3 Submitting Assignments Online Effectively

Purpose

CASE Online provides learners the opportunity to submit assignment electronically. Through effective use of CASE Online, instructors can seamlessly receive student work and provide timely, constructive feedback. Utilizing the assignment submittal feedback feature streamlines class time by eliminating the need to collect and return paperwork.

What are the steps to provide feedback to students for assignments submitted via CASE Online? How can CASE Online be used to grade student assignments?

Procedure

During this activity, you will learn how to assess assignments and provide feedback to learners.

Part One – Reflection

Reflect upon your experience as a learner in the Lead Teacher 101 course. Be thorough and specific in your responses.

1. What challenges did you experience as you progressed through the course?

My challenges came with not being focused at the beginning, taking notes and being in a hurry to finish. Once that proved disastrous, I focused and things progressed much better. I also struggled with learning the online portion of this lesson. One it is gone through a few times it is much easier.

2. As a lead teacher, what information would you like to know more about?

I would like to have more practice with the online program as I can see a benefit of using this. I am beginning to use Google Classroom and see the benefits for students as well as myself in the classroom.

3. What did you enjoy most about the Lead Teacher 101 course?

I most enjoyed learning new thing, and reflecting on how that information can be used in my teaching and classroom.

Part Two – Assignment Submittal

Practice submitting an assignment as a learner by submitting this assignment to the 'Activity 3.1.3' dropbox in the Lead Teacher 101 course. Utilize the "Submitting Assignments Online Effectively" Quick Guide located in the Course Resources folder for more specific help.
