

Question for Week 6 Clinical Paperwork.

I believe that the reason her confusion could be getting worse is for two reason.

1. She has a UTI. According to her history, she gets them frequently. You can become very dehydrated and become confused when you have a serious one.
2. Her Alzheimer's is progressing. There are different stages if this disease, so her dementia might be worse that originally thought.