Communication	Critical Thinking	Documentation
She didn't really talk to the patient to feel comfortable especially with music going	She didn't ask the patient for pain scale prior.	She forgot to save the meds and document what the patient was feeling as far as for pain.
She kept making small comments about being alive	She didn't push the med properly for the right rate of time.
She didn't ask if her pain was alleviated any after given the morphine.

Human Caring/Relationships

Professional Role Performance

She didn't really teach the patient about what they will feel, but not while music is playing.

She has music playing while trying to give a patient a medication

She talked to the patient about needing her glasses, shouldn't have said that and she should have had her glasses if she needs them
