

Elizabeth Orosco

Why I want to be a Nurse

In my short life here I have always wanted to have a career that I can show my compassionate heart towards individuals that are in need. I have always wanted to help and make an impact on an individual's life. Nursing is the correct path that I can use these special talents and gifts to make a positive impact. Lastly, I look forward to being challenged and working as a team in order to accomplish this rewarding task.