

Brooke Rinehart

4-17-2021

Why Nursing?

I have always had the desire to help people. As a child, I spent many hours pretending that I was a nurse, taking temperatures and bandaging hurt arms. My love of caring for others grew while I was a student at Trinity Christian, and I realized that I was born to serve others. I love knowing that nursing is so rewarding, and it makes a difference in people's lives. Nursing is for me.