

Samantha Ramos

Why I want to be a Nurse.

Growing up caring for people and wanting to take care of others has been second nature to me. I want to be in direct relation with others and bring compassion to all people. I want to be a nurse to do something that is interesting and challenging. Most importantly being able to make a positive impact in people's lives.