Case Study # 6 Poverty & Homelessness

The community of Silvertown has identified the need for a shelter to serve homeless women and children. In addition, health care services will be provided. Stacey M. is the community health nurse and other health care professionals are charged with planning health care services.

1. What common health problems should Nurse Stacey and the task force be aware of when planning health services to be provided at the new shelter?
2. What effects of poverty on the health of children should Nurse Stacey and the task force be aware of when planning appropriate services.
3. After the shelter opens, Nurse Stacey becomes one of the nurses who works in the clinic. What strategies are important when working with this population.
