

Patient Education

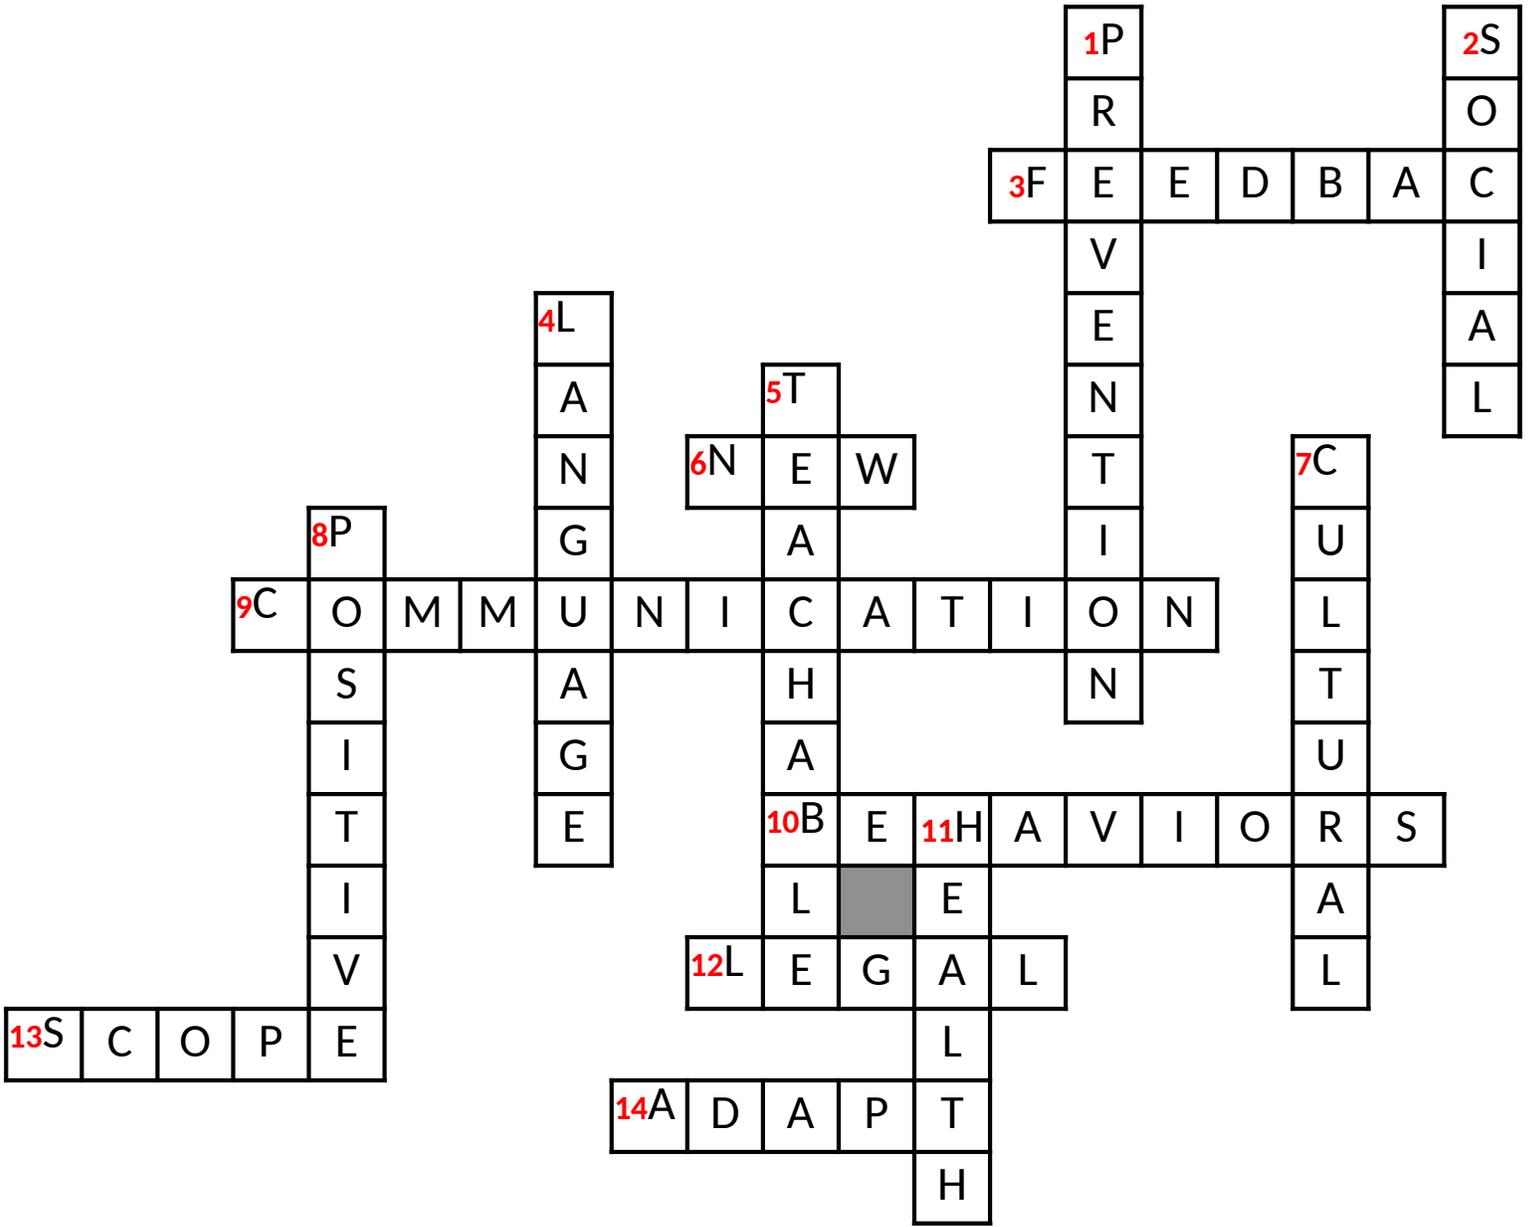

Across

- 3 This information provided by the learner to the teacher is important
- 6 This is the type of normal that may be a part of a patient's functioning
- 9 Education parallels this process
- 10 A change in these actions is the ultimate goal of teaching
- 12 Nurses have an ethical and this type of responsibility to provide education to patients
- 13 Nurse practice acts recognize that education falls within this for Nursing
- 14 Education restores health by assisting the patient to do this regarding illness or injury

Down

- 1 Receiving a vaccine provides this action against illness
- 2 A reduction in this type of conversation is a communication skill that is pivotal to patient education
- 4 A healthcare provider has a duty to provide information in simple, clear, and plain words, also known as this
- 5 This type of moment is how a nurse should think of every minute with a patient
- 7 This type of perspective influences the way information is delivered
- 8 An effective teacher provides this type of reinforcement regarding learning
- 11 This physical and emotional state affects the ability of the patient to learn

K