

My name is Nick Nguyen and there are a few reasons why I choose nursing. The first reason is because I have been in the hospital a few times and I see that the nurse that is taking care of me being very compassionate and help me a lot. And the other reason why I choose nursing is because I want to help other people and save life.