

Case Study 4: N.J.

Scenario

N.J. is a 65-year-old widow who lives alone. She has a long history of type 2 diabetes and hypertension. N.J. is not employed. She has very limited savings and relies on Social Security benefits for income. She smokes about half a pack of cigarettes a day and has been a smoker since she was in her 20s. She drinks alcohol "a couple of times a year, usually a glass of wine at a special dinner."

N.J. has a sore on her ankle that she has noticed for the last several months. The sore does not hurt much, but she has been unable to get it to heal. The cashier at the convenience store tells her that she should use butter to help heal wounds because the butter keeps the wound moist and helps to enhance healing.

N.J. decides to follow the cashier's advice and applies butter to her wound for a week. The wound does not seem to be getting any better; in fact, it looks worse. It now has yellowish drainage, and the skin around the wound has become red. Her foot also hurts when she walks on it. N.J. stops the butter treatment and goes to the emergency department.

Discussion Questions

1. What are the priority nursing diagnoses for N.J.?

Impaired tissue integrity

2. What discharge teaching will you provide her?

Stop smoking, instruction for the wound, and to follow up as directed and take medication as directed to finish the medication. Seek medical help when she has anything abnormal not to take a cashiers advice from the streets.

3. How can you advocate for N.J. regarding required medical equipment, supplies, and medications and their cost on a limited budget?

Can talk to social workers to get her the help that she is needing so she doesn't use all her savings since she is relying on social security

3. What expectation would you anticipate for N.J. regarding follow-up care?

She seems she listens and takes directions well, I am hoping to see an improvement with the wound and with her taking the medications her labs will look good and the infection will be gone.
