Why I want to be a nurse.

I decided that I wanted to be a nurse a few years into my college career because my long-time boyfriend's mom is a nurse and I loved watching her talk about her days working with babies. After talking to her about it multiple times, I decided to switch my studies to work toward getting accepted to nursing school. I think that the day-in and day-out job of a nurse is admirable, and I would love to be a part of a community that cares about others no matter the circumstance. After watching my multiple nurse friends go through the COVID-19 pandemic, I know that nurses are needed and play an essential part in keeping the healthcare system running and I want to do my part in that as well.
