

Shantavia Turner

Simulation Lab- Reflection

I had a different perspective on the sim lab this week. I loved how the teachers made us critically think on the patient and on the paper we did in the classroom on Tuesday. I wouldn't do anything differently because what I am doing seems to be helping me a lot with the case studies and overall my test. I learned a lot during sim lab and also in the classroom on Tuesday. It made me realize that people have different point of views on what is important and what is not. I would love to have more "sim practice" and different scenerios to where we have to think critically. I don't know about anyone else, but it definately helped me a lot.