

Preceptorship has been so helpful for me in transitioning into the work role. I have had the opportunity to learn so much over the last couple of weeks and I have definitely seen a significant amount of growth in my skills and confidence on the floor. During my time in the emergency department, I have had so many opportunities to work on my skills. Every day, I've had the opportunity to do IV starts, catheters, EKGs, charting, discharge instructions, patient education, and many other things. When I first started, I lacked so much confidence and was scared to be honest because everyone in the ED is so fast with their skills. As time goes by, I feel so much more confidence in the way I do things and find my routine for the day. I have also gained so much confidence in the way I approach the patients and my communication skills. Honestly, I have just had a blast and absolutely love what I do. I am so grateful for my amazing preceptor. She encourages me to try new things and also uplifts me when I don't get the IV or things don't turn out the way I think they will.
