

Why Nursing?

Alina Mills

Choosing nursing as a career was not my original plan. However, when I started working as a Certified Pharmacy Technician, I found a passion for learning about medicine. Through out my career as a CPhT I have had many coworkers who were interested in or in nursing school. Through talking with them I became excited about nursing. Nursing would be a way to continue my education in medicine and be a way I can help people. Nursing is the career for me because I am motivated, efficient, and hard working.
