

Cayman Smith

Why I want to be a nurse

I want to be a nurse because I feel like it has been a God given calling since the age of five. When I was five and about to start kindergarten, I fell deathly ill, and by the grace of God, the doctors were able to eventually find that I had appendicitis through exploratory surgery. The weeks I spent in and out of the women's and children's hospital allowed me to soak in the love and care of the medical staff and has always left me interested in studying the anatomy and physiology of the human body to eventually one day return to help those children who were just like me.