

Why I Want To Be A Nurse

I chose the nursing profession at an early age due to my mother becoming a quadriplegic when I was 1 years old. As soon as I was old enough to work I became a caregiver in hopes of being able to take care of my mother one day. Caregiving came to me with ease due to my mother's situation. I worked as a caregiver all throughout high school and college in multiple different settings. I tried other jobs that were non health care related but I seemed to always find my way back to health care. In my 20s I realized I have been given the gift and heart to pursue nursing. God has gifted me with my testimony to be able to care for others as others have cared for my mother.
