

Covenant School of Nursing
Instructional Module 3 Learning Outcomes
Topic: Gastrointestinal Med Surg

Learning Goals/Outcomes

Upon completion of this lesson, you will be able to:

- Analyze conditions which place a patient at risk for disruptions in elimination pattern
- Identify and apply the nursing process when conditions are developing or have developed related to elimination.
- Identify the different needs, medical reasons and safe administration of different types of nutrition feedings
- Analyze the disease process which could place an elderly patient at risk for fluid/electrolytes imbalance related to GI issues.
- Apply the nursing process with collaborative interventions for individuals experiencing an immunity disruption related to GI issues.
- Apply the nursing process with collaborative interventions for individuals experiencing a metabolic disruption related to GI issues
- Describe the etiology and pathophysiology of, Elimination, Immunity, Metabolism and Nutrition in relation to GI system
- Identify the name, classification, action, common side effect, adverse reactions, nursing administration and teachings to medication used to treat GI symptoms and diseases