

I have been an LVN since 2016. I have worked for the small hospital in Brownfield and I left in June of this year to work at Covenant. I want to become an RN because I feel that my patients and community deserve nurses that are highly educated. I also want to gain the education so I can understand more of the critical care side of nursing.