Why nursing? I went into the nursing field because I care about people. I wanted to start a career where I would be able to connect with people and make an impact. So, nursing became the obvious choice for me once I thought about what I wanted. Having experience in the healthcare field, I have come to realize that another reason why I wanted to become an RN is to provide quality care with compassion, integrity, and dignity.