

The reason as to why I decided to become a nurse is because it has been a passion for a long time since I was young. I love helping people and making a difference in peoples' lives. Also in nursing there is job security and there are many opportunities. I also love flexibility in nursing schedules, am able to work for 3 days a week and do other family stuff or I can pick up more shifts if need be.