

I want to become a nurse because I have always wanted to help people in need. I am a people person and strive to do my best in whatever I am doing. I am confident in being there for people through vulnerable moments and providing emotional support. I desire to make a positive impact on patients lived in the healthcare field. It is a selfless profession, and it takes dedication to become a nurse, and I aspire to do so. I am motivated by the challenges in this field that allows me to learn new skills and develop expertise.
