

In the year 2008, I became a CNA and started working in a Nursing facility taking care of the elderly. Working as a CNA, I enjoyed and loved working with the resident's that I decided to further my career and help them on another level. I have decided to continue to educate myself and learn other areas of nursing. Nursing as been a rewarding career and one that will readily be available.

Cindy Granado