You are a Tactile learner! Check out the information below, or view all of the learning styles.

Tactile

Tactile learners prefer hands-on activities, physical movement, and learning through touch. You excel when engaged in active, dynamic learning experiences, often requiring breaks, and may find it challenging to sit still.

As a tactile learner, you enjoy hands-on activities such as dismantling and assembling things. When you are bored, you tend to tinker or move around. Your good coordination and athletic ability stand out. While you easily recall actions, visual or auditory information might be challenging. Touch is your preferred communication style, and you appreciate physical forms of encouragement, like a pat on the back.

Here are some things that tactile learners like you can do to learn better:
