

I would like to be a part of the nursing profession because I would like to be able to make a positive impact on people's lives. I believe I was called to this journey because I love to serve others. Being able to help people makes me very joyful and I hope in return I can make them feel the same way. Another reason is job security and the endless opportunities for career progression. I want to be a nurse because there also are many specialties that I can learn and continue to grow my knowledge. Lastly, I want to be apart of making a difference and get to join such an important profession.
