

I want to be a nurse because I believe in recent years, healthcare has started to become questionable and people are distrusting the science and system we have in place. I fully agree that there are parts of healthcare that need improvement and would like to be part of that improvement. I enjoy educating people on health related things, specifically in the realm of women's health as I personally have gone through many health scares in this area.