

Why I chose Nursing

I decided to pursue nursing because I grew up watching my mom and sister be nurses. Hearing that they help patients in their most vulnerable states and get to be part of their healing process is what inspired me. I believe that life is about the impact you have on others and helping them is what I think my life's purpose is. Nursing also opens a lot of opportunities in terms of career paths. If I don't like working in an area, I can just pivot and try a different area.
