

Why Nursing?

When I first started looking into becoming a nurse I was really interested in the science and just how fascinating the human body is. and it is still one of my favorite parts of the profession. But I also love being there for people. Right now I'm working at Covenant Medical Center in Transportation, and sometimes people just need someone to talk to and it brings me joy to be there to listen. I take pride in being there for people on the worst days even if I'm just there to hold their hand and give them a little comfort.
