

Yvonne Y. Jackson

02/02/2026

Reflection 1

This morning @ 11:25 my patient was talking to me + Sadie. He was receiving a blood transfusion. When he started coughing & couldn't breathe we stopped the infusion immediately. He was standing to the pt suctioning the blood out of his mouth. & we sent him to ECU to be placed on a vent.

He felt like supposed to be there and he was confident in my abilities to calm him down. He held his hand & suctioned his mouth when needed.

We were able to get him to micu proficiently and safely.

He do need to improve on my confidence. Although he was confident he just felt like he was in the way.

He learned having good communication & teamwork definitely makes one dreamwork. i. Also, doing hourly checks & charting are very important to the patient care.