

Kimberly Garcia

Why I want to become a Nurse?

Why I choose to become a Nurse? I come from a long line of nurses in my family. It starts with my grandma who went to take a test and boom she was a nurse. At the time all you had to do was take a test and get a physical and you were trained to care for sick people. Not long after, my mother went to vocational college and became a nurse. Growing up I watch the very inspirational woman in my life make a difference in other people's lives wither they were sick or making new lifelong friends. Watching them heal people to saving lives daily gave me motivation to pursue my dreams of becoming a nurse and making a difference in the lives of my generation and the future of mankind. I want to be remembered as a hero to my children and allow them to always chase their dreams.