

BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION

I graduated as a Counselling Psychologist at the University of Stellenbosch. When our children were in secondary school I saw a need and got involved with career assessment to help teenagers find their destiny and calling. I then got involved as a Yes Consultant as this is an amazing assessment tool to help 12-16 year old students to better understand themselves and others at a stage where they have to establish their own identity. I love the way in which Yes further equips and gives them strategy for the gradual process of deciding which career to follow.
