

Introduction:

Today, as a Career Direct Consultant, I bring together my real-world experience and biblical insight with one clear mission: to help young people find direction and purpose while they're still young, before confusion and pressure overwhelm them. I guide students and professionals in discovering their God-given design, so they can make wise decisions, walk confidently in their calling, and live lives that honor God.

"Those who honor Me I will honor." - 1 Samuel 2:30

Mission Statement:

I help young people discover who God created them to be—so they can study wisely, live purposefully, and step boldly into their future.

"Your calling isn't a mystery. Let's discover it together, with God at the center."

"Before I formed you in the womb I knew you, before you were born I set you apart." Jeremiah 1:5

Speciality Details

With a background in Industrial Psychology, real-world experience across education, business, and leadership, and a heart rooted in faith, I help students and young adults discover their God-given design through the Career Direct® Assessment.

My approach blends biblical truth, psychological insight, and Godly wisdom, so clients gain clarity, confidence, and purpose in their career and study decisions.

I don't just help people choose a path. I equip them to walk boldly in their calling, knowing who they are and why they were created.

Credentials Summary

B.Com Industrial Psychology Majoring in Industrial Psychology, Psychology and Business Management.

South African Applied Psychology

Building a Positive Self-Image

Cyber Bullying & Cyber Wellness

Fundamental Counselling Skills