Using this report for Career Planning

Joshua, the underlying principle for using this report is that people who match their work with their personalities, interests, skills and values generally enjoy and succeed in their work. Thus, your feedback in the four areas shown below will provide valuable information for your career planning. All of these areas should be considered before making your career decisions.

Your results will not spell out one specific occupation for you. Rather, you will be given key information that will help you understand your unique makeup and the type of work that would be a good match for you. The general approach is much better, because usually there will be several similar occupations that match a person's interests and talents. By using the Career Direct® Next Steps segment of the guidance system, you will be able to refine your options into a good choice for a career field. This includes the Next Steps section (Section 5), in particular Job Detail Links (O*Net) and the Action Plan, and Section 6 (Resources). Choose those that are appropriate for you. The process of using your talents and interests to make career decisions that also align with your personality and values will serve you well both now and in your future career management.

GETTING THE MOST FROM YOUR REPORT

There is a lot of information in this report, so you will want to read it through several times. It also can be very beneficial to have someone, such as a friend, spouse, or mentor, read through your report with you. Usually someone who knows you well, yet is different from you in personality can be especially helpful in picking up on concepts you might miss. If you decide to enlist a Career Direct Consultant for more specific help with your career planning, this report would be especially helpful in providing insights into your unique career potential. As mentioned earlier, the most important step you can take to gain full benefit from this report is to meet with a Consultant and to work through the Action Plan in your CAREER DIRECT GUIDANCE SYSTEM.

Career Direct® Complete Guidance System Report

ORGANIZATION OF THE REPORT

The report is organized into four major areas: Personality, General Interests, Skills, and Values. Each of these areas provides key insights into your unique makeup. Definitions of all groups in the report may be found in the Job Sampler that is contained in your CAREER DIRECT GUIDANCE SYSTEM.

1. Personality. The report begins with the personality section, in which you will find an analysis of six personality factors in your Personality Highlights, your Typical Strengths and Non-Strengths, and your Career Environment based on your unique personality profile.
2. General Interests. In this section you will see a ranking of your interests in 21 General Interests Career Groups and descriptions of your highest career groups. These broad career groupings are derived from the Vocational Interests section of the Assessment. Your scores reflect your level of interest in each of the 21 Career Groups. There also is a chart that lists the components that make up your top eight interests: the Activities, Occupations, and Subject Groups.
3. Skills and Abilities. Here you will see a ranking of your skills in 14 areas and descriptions of your strongest skills and abilities.
4. Values. This section has three parts: Work Environment, Work Expectations, and Life Values. Your top four priorities in each area will be highlighted.

Understanding The Scales And Scores

The scales for all of the sections are based on standardized scores that were derived from the responses of a large population of people who are successfully employed in various occupations. The scales provide a way for you to visually compare your scores to the scores of other typical workers. The scales also make it easy to spot trends. A sample of the scales used are shown below.

On the example split bar graph above, different ranges of personality are displayed. The range of standard scores on the graph is from +30 (left) to 0 (mid) to +30 (right) (60 point range) and the average score is 0 (mid range). For each factor, roughly one third of the population will score to the right (+6 to +30), one third will score mid-range (+5 left to 0 to +5 right), and one third to the left (+6 to +30). Below is an example of the scales and scores that is used for both the Interests and Skills and Abilities sections.

The sample graph above shows low interest (left), moderate interest (mid-range), and high interest (right) ranges. (This specific example shows a high interest in the Activity Interest of Animal Care). These scores do not indicate achievement or "good" or "bad" scores. They represent your relative standing, based on your responses, with other persons in the adult or youth categories.

\ this not about what you're good or not

Part 1: Personality

Concept of Personality

Joshua, in this section, the term personality describes the way a person is naturally motivated to act. For example, some people are naturally motivated to be very organized and precise, and some are more spontaneous and casual. Likewise, some are risk takers, and some are naturally cautious.

Experience and observation confirm that there is no best personality style. All styles are valid. All are needed in society and in the workplace. All have strengths and non-strengths.

It is very important to consider your personality style when making career decisions. The goal is to identify occupations that are a good match for your natural tendencies, as well as your interests, skills and values. Just as coaches need athletes of varying size and speed to play different positions, employers need a variety of personality styles to build successful teams.

1.1 Six Factors of Personality

This survey covers six major factors of your unique personality:

Again when it comes to personality, it is not better to be one or the other (e.g. Extroverted or Introverted). One must use the strengths associated with your unique personality.

These factors were derived through extensive research, and they are consistent with other established measurements of normal personality traits.

Each factor is associated with a range of behaviors. For example, those who score in the extroverted direction will naturally have a totally different response toward meeting strangers than those who score in the introverted direction. Those who fall in the mid-range typically exhibit a mix of behaviors. As you read this section, keep in mind that all points on the scale have strengths and non-strengths.

CONFIRMING YOUR PERSONALITY FEEDBACK

This section of your report, as well as the rest of the report, has been developed from the responses you provided and reflects profiles that are typical of people who scored like you. The reports are usually quite accurate, but every insight may not apply to you, so you will need to confirm the information presented. Consider the report based on your knowledge of yourself, and have the other person you ask to assist you to check your feedback also. Concentrate on the portions that accurately describe you.

* opening question :> what did u do / think during the assessment?

1.2 YOUR PERSONALITY FACTORS AND SUB-FACTORS

Joshua, the next three pages list your six personality factors. They are listed in order from most extreme to least extreme.

1. Unstructured

spontaneous and prefer to operate without a lot of details or restrictions

⊖ lack commitment, focus, jump to quickly

Career Implications

Your score on the UNSTRUCTURED/CONSCIENTIOUS factor indicates that you should look for occupations that are:

- ✓ Loosely structured
- ✓ Independent 50%
- ✓ Inexact
- ✓ Casual
- ✓ Broadly oriented
- ✓ Unpredictable

Your score on the UNSTRUCTURED/CONSCIENTIOUS scale indicates a strong drive to live in an unstructured manner. In many areas you probably prefer to establish your own standards and set your own priorities, rather than having them set for you by others. You typically believe that you can figure out a way to solve any new problem that arises. In fact, you probably like new problems because they offer a challenge for you to improvise and act on the spot.

One of your key strengths is your ability to see things in a new and different light, apart from the normal operating procedures. This gives you an opportunity to offer "breakthrough" insights that can enable a new and better way of operation or lead to an entirely new product.

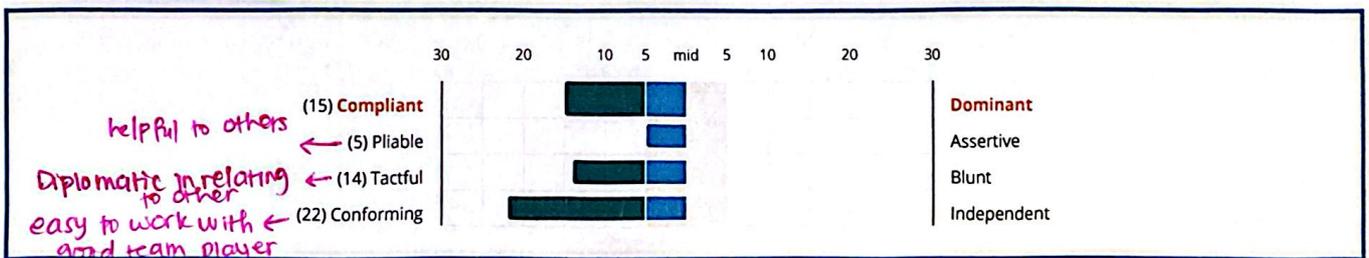

Another strength typical of those with your score is the ability to focus on the big picture and avoid getting bogged down in anything that resembles busywork.

Your strengths listed above can lead to negative consequences when overdone. Keep in mind that everyone has to follow some rules, and we can all benefit by the experience and wisdom of others. Inconsistency may also be a problem, so develop good habits for day-to-day living. Finally, we all have to master some types of detailed work in order to survive and succeed. By balancing your drive for autonomy with wisdom and self discipline, you will be in the best position to achieve your full potential. seiala jd

highlight to help survive & achieve goals

2. Compliant

naturally cooperative with others to get the job done and tend to lead by setting the example rather than by taking charge

Career Implications

Based on your score on the COMPLIANT/DOMINANT factor, in your work situation you should look for:

- ✓ Caring leadership
- ✓ A harmonious work team ✓
- ✓ A clearly defined mission
- ✓ Minimum rejection
- ✓ Opportunities to cooperate
- ✓ Non-confrontational situations ✓

Joshua, your score on the COMPLIANT/DOMINANT scale indicates that you naturally cooperate with others to get the job done. Your tendency is to be a team player who can be depended on to support organization goals. Others respect you for your loyalty. You probably find that you are more concerned about just getting the job done than who's going to be in charge. Your strengths focus on your tactful demeanor, the way you support others, and your ability to promote harmony in the group.

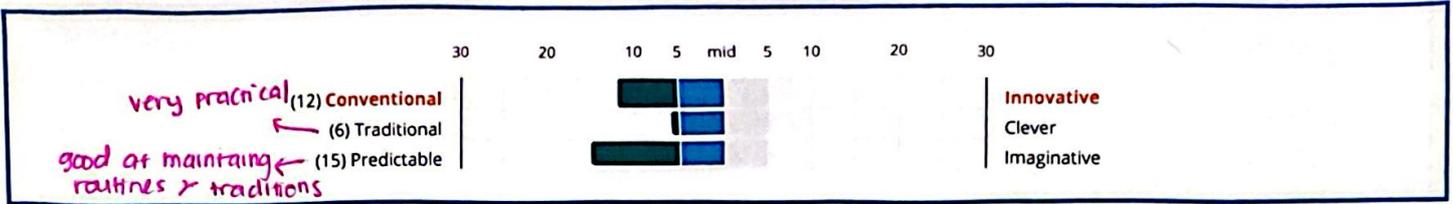

The most common weakness you may face involves hesitancy to take action or speak out. To become more effective, you may need to project yourself into a more outspoken role in certain situations. Doing this will help you overcome a lack of confidence or shyness. ✓

When you hold back, some of your best ideas never get heard, and there may be times when you need to act. Practice being more assertive and you probably will be surprised at the respect others have for your abilities. By opening up and sharing your talents, you will make even greater contributions in every area of your life.

3. Conventional

able to operate from a practical and conventional perspective and are good at carrying out established procedures

Career Implications

Your score on the CONVENTIONAL/INNOVATIVE factor indicates that your strength is in operating the tried and tested. In your work look for:

- ✓ Practical applications ✓
- ✓ Working at your own pace ✓
- ✓ Hands-on experiences ✓
- ✓ A regular work routine ✓
- ✓ Learning by doing ✓
- ✓ Training for new responsibilities

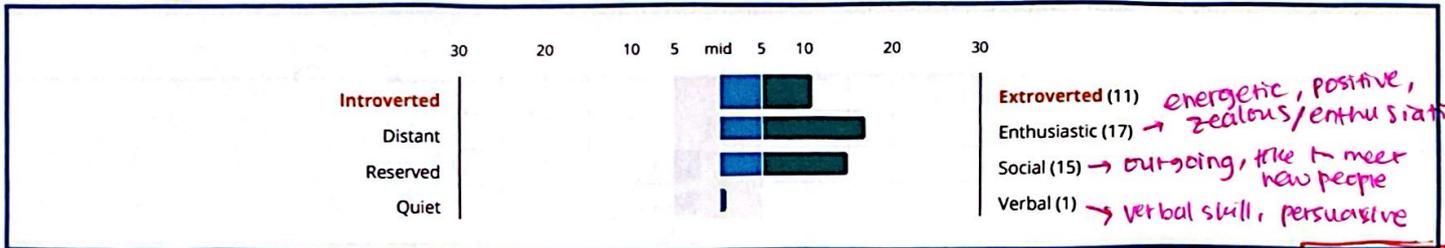

Joshua, your score on the CONVENTIONAL/INNOVATIVE scale indicates that you tend to be conventional in your thinking. The associated strengths would be that you excel as a practical, down-to-earth individual, whose focus is set on proven methods. Grounded in a realistic approach to life, your preference is to work with familiar, reliable procedures, rather than waste time attempting to reinvent the wheel.

Your key strengths include the ability to master a work process and remain on course with it, rather than succumb to distractions or tangents, and you have a comfort range working within established parameters.

Although you have found comfort and reliability in following established habits and procedures, be aware that new ideas may help you to function more efficiently and effectively. The world is experiencing incredible changes in technology. To some degree, we all need to keep abreast of these changes and the possibilities for innovation that they bring.

4. Extroverted

outgoing and a natural people person who likes meeting strangers; enthusiastic and good at networking

Career Implications

Based on your score on the INTROVERTED/EXTROVERTED factor, you will be best suited for people-oriented occupations. Look for a work environment that will allow you to relate to people in a friendly way and provide you the opportunity to:

- ✓ Talk/explain ✓
- ✓ Perform
- ✓ Promote
- ✓ Network
- ✓ Encourage
- ✓ Use humor ✓

Your score on the INTROVERTED/EXTROVERTED scale is typical of those who seek frequent interaction with people and have strong verbal skills. Your high energy level probably is quite obvious from your gestures, enthusiastic conversation, and frequent smiles as you communicate with others. You are challenged by opportunities to be persuasive and convincing, and you make a positive impression on large groups.

As a people person, you probably look forward with great excitement to the networking opportunities that come with events such as conventions, reunions, meetings, parties, and similar social activities.

Another area of strength is your spontaneous and uninhibited style. You are not bashful and you likely have a knack for getting more reserved people involved in group activities. You probably are energized by the opportunity to speak or perform before an audience.

Joshua, keep in mind that a strength overdone becomes a weakness. Your verbal strengths are a real asset, but there is wisdom in knowing when to be quiet and listen. More awareness of how others are receiving your conversation will help you be more considerate of their interests and conversation needs. For maximum effectiveness consider others around you and adapt your behavior to fit the situation.

* need to ask about verbal skill with someone he's comfortable he's okay but with work related have tendency to read the situation, hesitant to speak, etc.
→ his compliant aspect.

5. Cautious

careful and prefer a steady, low risk environment; more of a cooperator than a competitor

Career Implications

Your score on the CAUTIOUS/ADVENTUROUS factor indicates that you generally prefer to operate in a cautious and conservative style. As you consider different occupations, look for positions that have:

- ✓ Low risk
- ✓ Security Joshua
- ✓ Supportive teams
- ✓ Cooperation instead of competition
- ✓ Proven procedures
- ✓ Regular duties

Your score on the CAUTIOUS/ADVENTUROUS scale indicates that you prefer a steady, low-risk environment, in which you can concentrate on one task at a time. To minimize risks, you typically go about your work cautiously, using procedures that have been tested and proved.

One of your key strengths is in carrying out established methods and guidelines. For this reason, you are likely to be most comfortable around people and activities that are familiar.

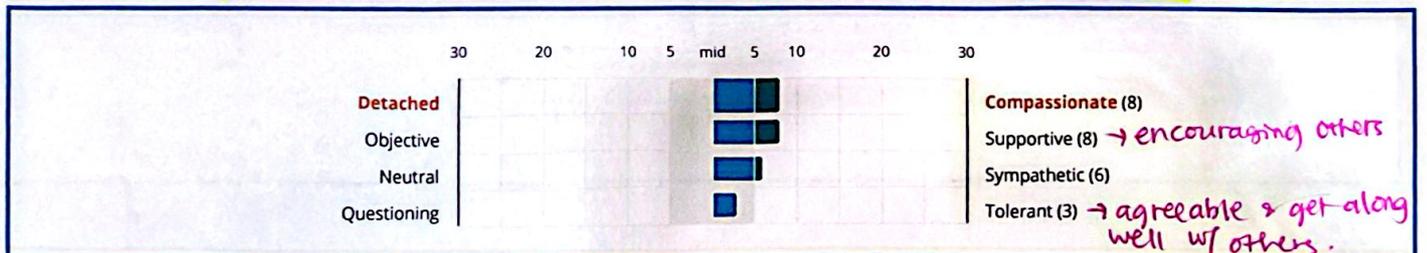

Another strength is found in your ability to function as a team player. It is typical for you to yield some of your personal ambitions for the sake of the group's agenda. This type of servant attitude is a cherished commodity and can be a real asset.

Joshua, since you have a natural tendency toward being cautious, take care not to overdo it. Opportunities may slip by as you ponder their risk and value. Calculated risks do not have to be your enemy. Merits can be extracted even from failures in life. In fact, most successful people become successful by learning from mistakes. One strategy you may find helpful is to practice stepping more boldly into low risk situations. Successes in these areas will build your confidence for more ambitious steps later.

- * Joshua agree that he needs to practice/try any situation that may be have risk.
- * it's okay to take action/speak

6. Compassionate

caring, sensitive, and a good listener; patient, loyal, and good at supporting and encouraging others

Career Implications

With your score on the DETACHED/COMPASSIONATE factor, look for occupations that will allow you to support people in a friendly environment and try to steer clear of those that require you to confront others or deal with strife or rejection on a regular basis. In your ideal work environment look for jobs that include:

- ✓ Kindness ✓
- ✓ Tolerance
- ✓ A high level of trust
- ✓ Stability
- ✓ Harmony ✓
- ✓ The opportunity to help others

very great/intense

Your score on the DETACHED/COMPASSIONATE scale indicates that you are a person of compassion and understanding. Your sensitivity enables you to be attuned to the hurts and struggles of those around you. As a patient, nonjudgmental listener, you can have a very profound influence on others, especially in one-on-one situations.

Because people sense your sincere concern and caring attitude, they will naturally want to share with you. At these times you will find it natural to encourage and counsel with them.

Your agreeable personality will make it easy for you to get along in almost any setting, as long as there is harmony. Conflict can be stressful for you, so you will want to check carefully any organizations and work teams you are considering before you join them.

→ usually will go to coor/ leader to help solve any conflict.

\ any comment/surprises?*

- quite surprise w/ the unstructured (didn't expect that high).
- the result is very him.
- agree that he needs to work out with the weaknesses.

1.3 Typical Strengths

→ interaction action plan

Joshua, shown below are strengths that are typical of people who score like you. Look for occupations that will allow you to highlight these strong points. The more you are able to use these strengths at work, the more likely your success and satisfaction. As mentioned earlier, you will need to check with someone who knows you well to confirm whether all items apply to you.

- Diplomatic in relating to others.
- Good team player.
- Energetic, positive, and enthusiastic; likes involvement in many activities.
- Outgoing, good mixer; energized by meeting new people.

As mentioned earlier, you will need to check with someone who knows you well to confirm whether all items apply to you.

- May withhold true opinions.
- Hesitant in making decisions.

- Can be fearful of change and overprotective of self and others.
- May underestimate personal abilities.
- Tends to rely too much on established procedures.

1.5 Critical Life Issues

This section provides insights that may be helpful in choosing a career. Your stress level, risk of debt, and handling of money can all be factors that influence your career choices. Being aware of these areas can help in decision making.

Stress → inner tension = feeling tense, nervous, bitter, resentment, anger, guilt, depression

Your score on the STRESS scale indicates that you are presently experiencing some tension and stress in your life. Typical emotions you might be feeling vary from a simple feeling of uneasiness or discouragement over some temporary setback, such as unemployment, to a serious bout of depression. stressed cause by the load work

Keep in mind that this instrument only provides a general indication of stress and is not suitable for diagnosing or prescribing treatment of psychological problems.

We encourage you to discuss your results with a family friend or a close confidant who could help you determine the depth of the issues and whether you need professional assistance to deal with them. If there is any doubt, we recommend you contact a professional who can provide you with a more thorough assessment and counseling and can assist you in dealing with these emotions.

Indebtedness No problem

Your scores indicate that indebtedness is not a problem for you. Congratulations on being able to live within your income.

Financial Management

Your financial management scores indicate that you have average habits in the area of spending, saving, and investing. We encourage you to become debt-free through budgeting and planned saving.

Part 2: General Interests

Five Major General Interests Areas

Joshua, discovering your general interests is a critical step in the career planning process for one simple reason; people tend to excel when they are interested in the work they do! What may appear as a tedious task to one person may be easy and enjoyable to another who is naturally motivated toward that type of work. In general, work that interests you will be fun even when it involves tasks that, under other circumstances, would be difficult or boring.

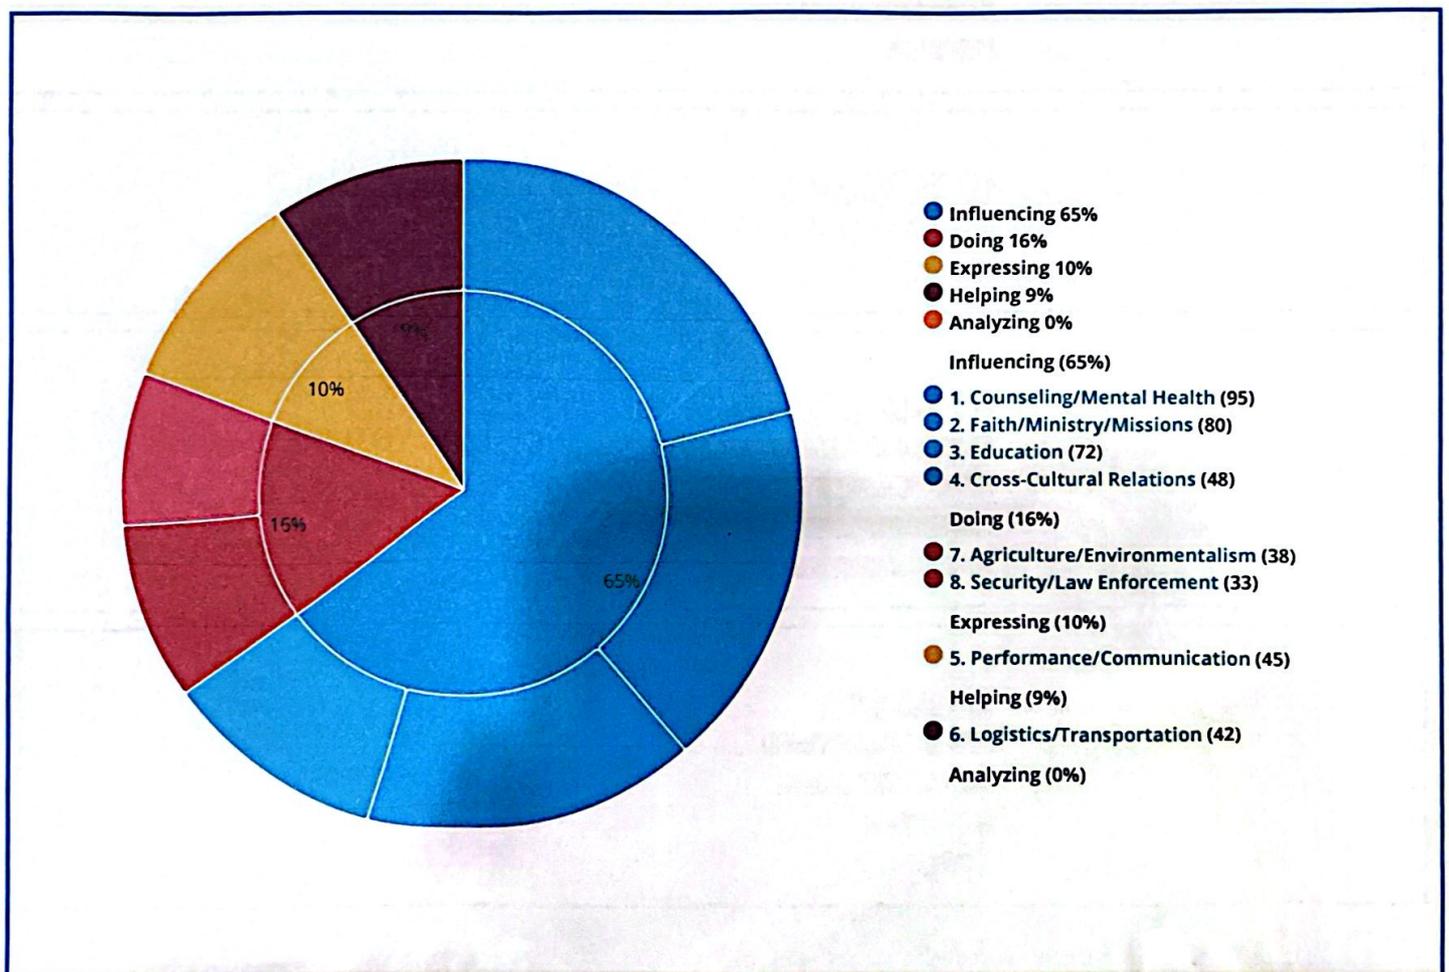

Because of the very nature of your interests, your leisure pursuits may have influenced your General Interest scores. This means you will have to use some discretion when interpreting your General Interest section of the report.

For instance, if you enjoy physical fitness and sports, "Sports and Fitness" may surface as a high Career Group. However, since so few individuals become professional athletes, recognize the high score for what it likely is: something you will do for fun and leisure but not for a career.

On the other hand, Joshua, the more you can relate your work to areas that excite you, the more likely you are to be successful. One person who loved shooting a bow and arrow became the top sales person for a leading archery company by pursuing strong interests in archery and the outdoors. Likewise, many people develop successful businesses from their hobbies. Keep in mind, the more you enjoy what you are doing, the more likely you will be satisfied with your work, and the lower your work stress will be.

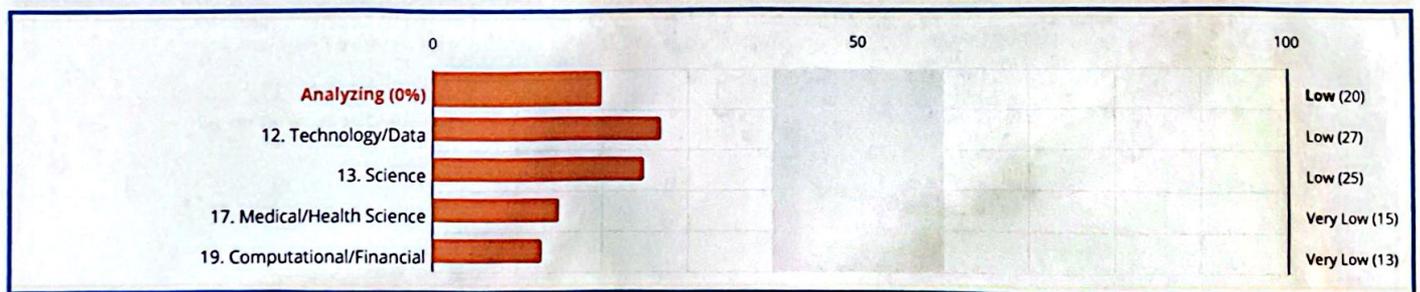

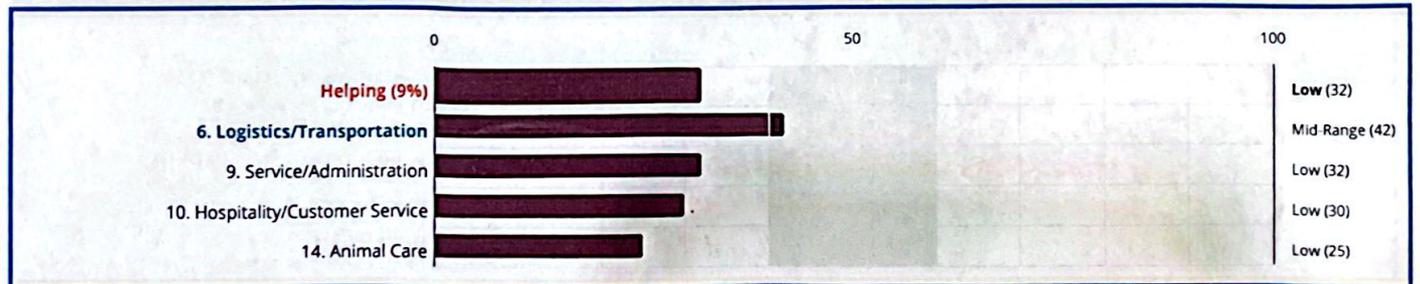

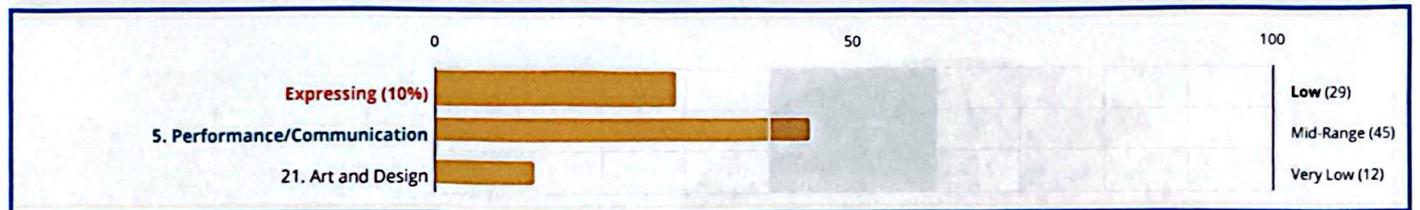

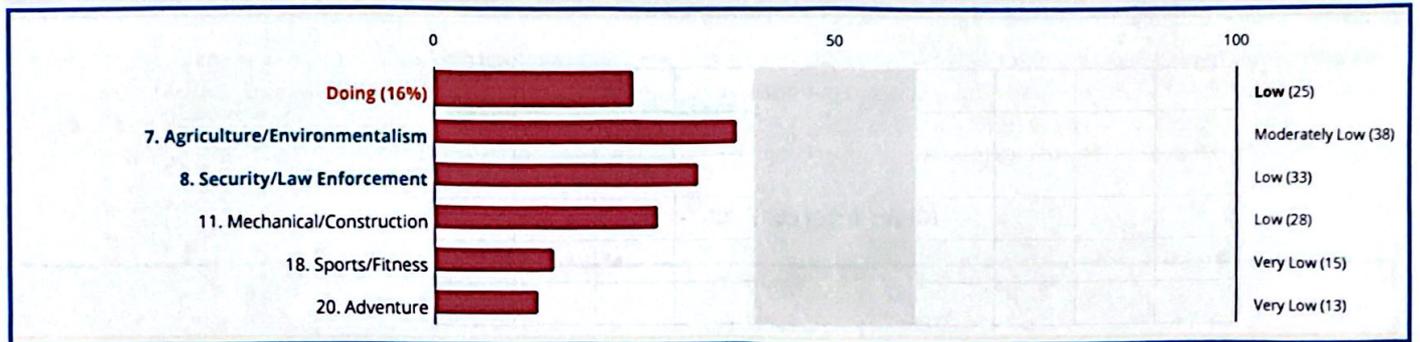

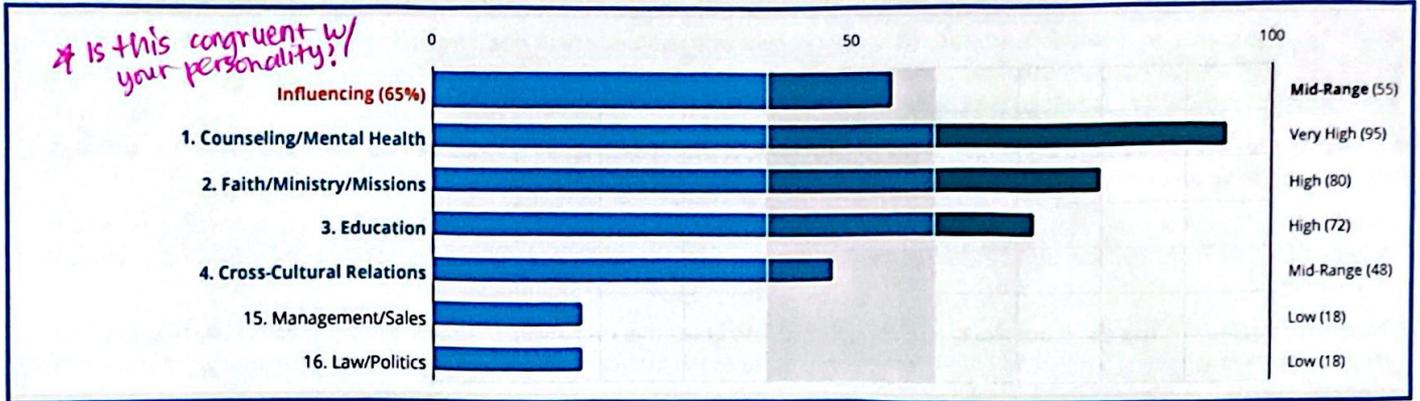

There are a number of ways to categorize career interest. This report uses 21 Career Interest Groups arrayed within five major Career Interest Areas. Those five major Career Interest Areas are displayed in the circle graph below, denoting how your Top 8 Career Interest Groups fall within them. If you have fewer than five major Career Interest Areas, it means that none of your top 8 Career Interest Groups fall within that area. More details on the breakdown within those five major areas can be found on the following pages.

Major Interest Areas and Career Groups

Five Major General Interests Areas

In the graphs below, if you have any areas showing 0%, it is because none of your Top 8 Career Interest Groups fall within those Major Interest Areas. However, you will still have interest data showing there.

✓ which one hobby
✓ which one life style

2.1 Top Eight Career Groups

Three components, Activities, Occupations, and Educational Subjects, determine your Career Group group scores. These interests may be either work or leisure related, or they may be leisure or hobby avocations that you use as the basis for a career. Since the Career Groups are made up of several parts, you may find that one Activity group may be very important to you, but other components of the group may not be important to you. Consequently, your top interest is not high on the list of Career Groups. For example, you may enjoy math but not care for finance, so your score on the Career Groups, Computational/Financial, is not high.

The following gives you detailed feedback on the makeup of your career group scores. For each interest category, your scores in the Activities, Occupations, and Subjects components are given.

2.3 Potential Occupations In Your Top Groups

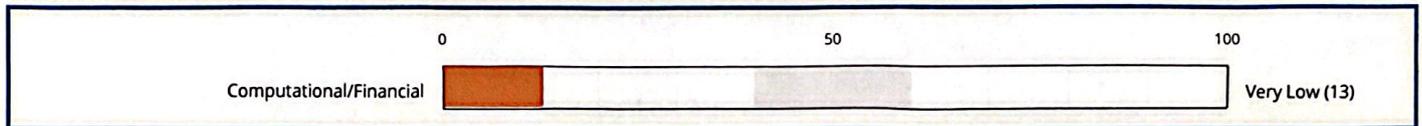

Joshua, your top eight Career Groups described on the previous pages provide general definitions for broad groups of occupations in which you have the highest level of interest. Some of the descriptions and occupations in the groups may not appeal to you. That's fine; just make note of what you don't like and use it as a criterion to narrow your career interest. Of course, the information in the other sections of this report and the accompanying Career Direct® Next Steps and Career Direct® Resources sections will help you in this process.

TAKE NOTE OF YOUR LOWEST INTEREST GROUPS

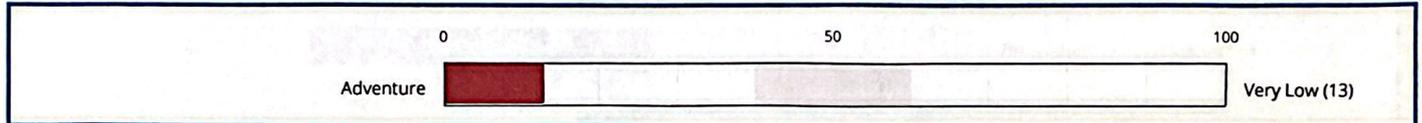

It's important for you to take note of your four lowest interest groups. They are listed in the chart below. Areas of low scores can reveal some insights about your career interests.

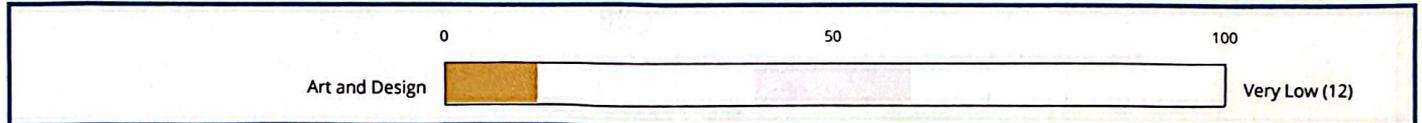

Compete in athletic events, participate in a team or individual sport, coach, instruct, or training in athletics and/or fitness, or organize and teach sports activities.

Solve complex problems using mathematical/financial formulas, concepts and software.

Participate in activities are action-packed and might be considered daring and risky by the average person.

Draw, use graphic software programs, design, paint, sculpt, create sound or sight effects, use photography, write poetry.

Note: Vocational/General Interests are not the same as skills. They reflect your motivation toward a career field but not your ability to work in that field. Most people have abilities that support their interests. If not, they usually try to develop their skills further or look at a secondary career area. For instance, someone who loves sports but does not have the skills to pursue an athletic career may decide to become an athletic trainer or a sports referee.

Part 3: Skills and Abilities

Skills Are Key Criteria for Choosing an Occupation

Skills Are Key Criteria for Choosing an Occupation

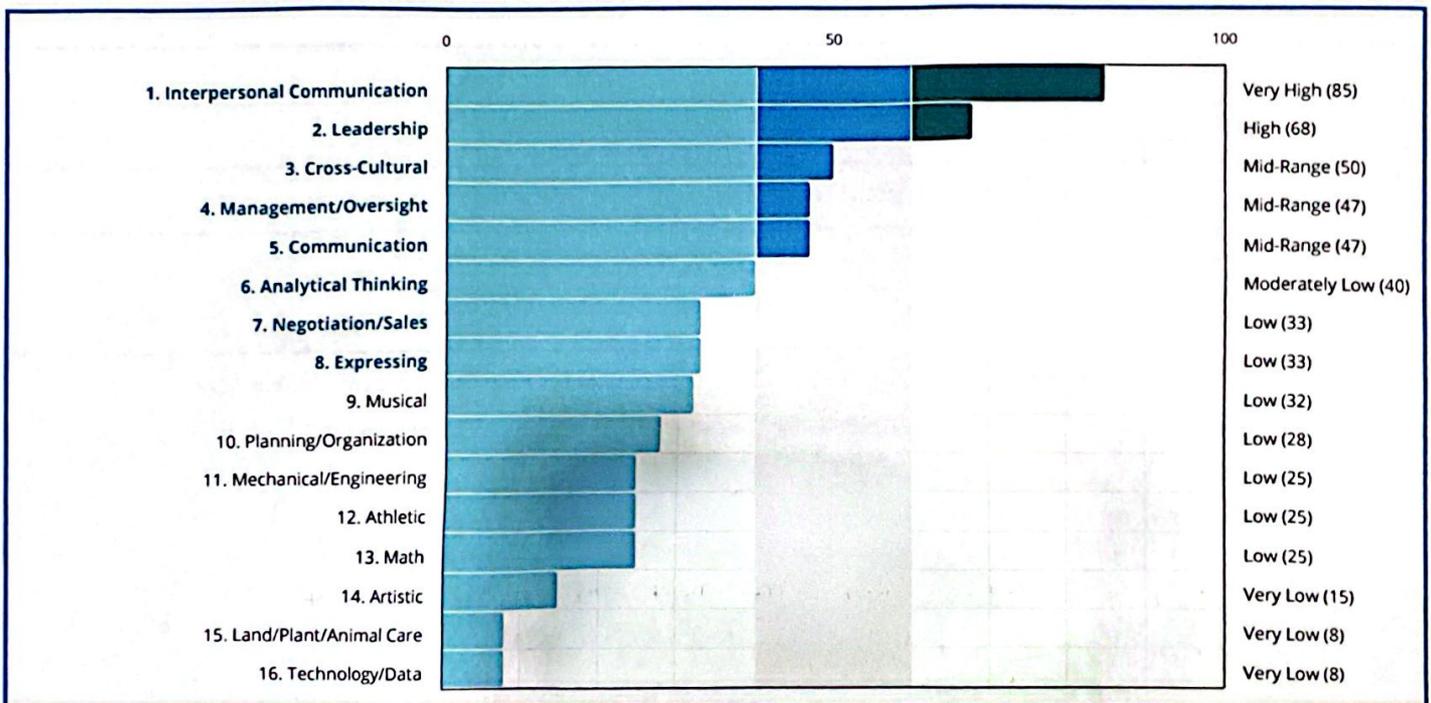

Joshua, an understanding of your skills will be important as you evaluate potential occupations. It is very critical that you match your work to career fields that utilize your best skills in order to gain the personal joy of doing something that comes naturally.

There are two key reasons for building on your natural strengths. First, doing so will help you to maximize your potential. Working in your natural strengths starts you at a higher baseline, helps you learn faster, and achieves more from the same amount of effort. For example, some people could practice singing for years but never have the ability to be successful as a singer because they simply lack the natural skills to excel.

Second, working in your natural strengths is just more fun. It's true that people experience less job stress when they are using skills with which they naturally excel. It also seems logical that you enjoy using these skills because they have been recognized, valued, and rewarded by others in the past. Your confidence will continue to grow as you use your natural skills, thus leading to even more success and joy in the future.

The bottom line is that you are most likely to excel when you use the skills that come naturally and bring joy in their use. Although you do need to be mindful of your weaknesses, it is generally unproductive to make them the primary focus for your work. In the area of skills, try to swim with the current, not against it.

Skills and Abilities

Note: This section's skill scores are from your self-assessment, not an achievement or an aptitude test. Research indicates that self-assessment can give an accurate overview of a person's skills.

3.1 Skills and Abilities: Top 4 Areas

strong interest in people; able to communicate & interact (not feel awkward) effective & meaningful: verbal & non verbal messaging. active listen, open empathy.
counsel teaching,

1. Interpersonal Communication

Very High (85)

Socializing comes easily to you due to your relatability and genuine interest in others (both familiar and new), which undergirds your ability to connect with a variety of people. Because of this natural capacity, you will probably do well in careers where you interact with people on a regular basis and can capitalize on your ability to communicate effectively by pursuing opportunities for you to counsel, teach, or explain as part of your work. To maximize the use of these skills, be sure your work involves serving others as an element of your regular duties.

confident, make decision quickly, take initiative, flexible, discerning, creative dependable. good at building relationship & problem solving.

2. Leadership

High (68)

If you excel in leadership, you likely have an elevated sense of initiative fueled by concern for or connection to others. You may be visionary or idealistic and willing to assert your influence over others. You could be positioned at the head of a group, or leading from among and working alongside the individuals you serve. Either way, you are respected for your integrity and dependability. Pursue opportunities that empower you to teach and mentor as a component of relationship building.

3. Cross-Cultural

Mid-Range (50)

You possess a love for language, as well as an eagerness to engage with people of differing cultures. You have a knack for perceiving, understanding, and adapting to the customs of other cultures. You are likely eager to travel in order to experience other cultures and traditions firsthand. Typically, you will be best suited if you explore your interests in some dimension of translating languages or mediating cultural differences, either in business, government, social services or humanitarian efforts.

4. Management/Oversight

Mid-Range (47)

It is likely that you excel when coordinating the activities of others. You delegate tasks, motivate others to work collaboratively, and successfully meet deadlines because people readily respond to your guidance. You are adept at project management and can anticipate and then navigate each stage of work needed to complete a complex task. You manage a high degree of urgency with your ability to be flexible and make adjustments in the moment. By quickly assessing the situational options, you adapt to fast-paced, changing environments. To maximize the use of these skills, you should consider occupations that involve launching a business, supervising others, and/or overseeing operations.

3.2 Skills and Abilities: Evaluate Your Skills

no violence reaction, very Jowi, cross-cultural a bit surprising cause not really in to it. but skills & ability mid-range.

Carefully examine your highest-ranked skills and analyze the relationship among them. How much overlap is there? Is there a common theme to your skills? Do any of your skills relate more to areas that you would use as a hobby than as a basis for your occupation? If so, are there ways that these hobby skills could transfer to your work? The Action Plan that accompanies your report will guide you through these and other questions. Completing this analysis will be key to gaining full benefit from your report.

DEVELOP YOUR SKILLS

Exploiting your natural strengths does not in any way mean that training, education, hard work, and dedication are not required to further develop your skills. On the contrary, most successful people become so by working diligently at what they do. Think of the professional golfer who develops natural athletic skills by hitting hundreds of balls every day. Likewise, consider a pianist who spends hours practicing in order to fully develop natural music skills.

MINIMIZE YOUR EXPOSURE OF YOUR LOW-SCORING SKILLS

Joshua, as with interests, please take note of the skill areas in which you scored the lowest. They are the ones listed at the bottom of the chart on the Skills and Abilities graph. Areas with low scores can reveal some insights about your career interest. It could be that these are not natural strengths, or perhaps you never have had the opportunity to develop them. In either case, it would be best not to pursue occupations that require heavy use of your low-scoring skills, unless you pursue more training first.

YOUR LOWEST FOUR SKILL AREAS

Values Are Important To Career Decisions

Values Are Important To Career Decisions

Joshua, you can be in a career field that is a good match for your vocational interests, skills, and personality strengths and still experience job dissatisfaction and stress if your work does not match your values. For example, many people value working outdoors and will never feel totally comfortable working in the confines of a building. Others may need to know that they are helping people directly in their work and will not be satisfied working alone or with machines.

Many people think that they can be happy doing most anything if it makes them successful in the material sense. All too often, they find themselves unfulfilled and burned out after only a few years into their careers. Using values as a criteria for career choices can preclude much of the disappointment and career stress present in today's workplace. As you review your priorities to see if you are being consistent, compare them to the way you are actually operating. This three-part section on values is designed to help you define the priorities and values that will guide your life and work.

Expect your values to change; these are your priorities and you can change them any time you want. Most people will find that they do change some of their priorities as they age and as their family situations change. It is a good idea to save this report for future reference. A periodic review will enable you to make updates and see how well you are sticking with your priorities.

✱ does my work match my needs?

✱ does my walk (life actions) match my talk (what I say & believe)?

✓ Focus to find balance

✓ Priorities & values can change

✓ priorities & values can be an area of struggle → client need to decide "what is more important"
to them

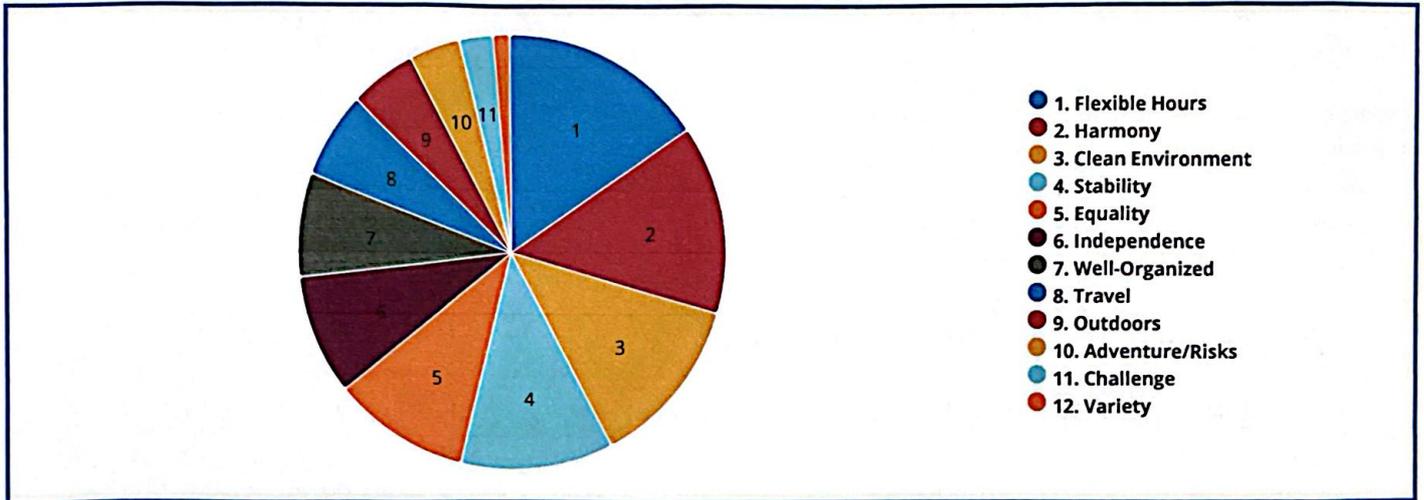

→ be realistic & understanding.

4.1 Values: Work Environment

Different people prefer or even require different kinds of environments in their workplace in order to function at their best. The kind of conditions they want when they go to work, such as in their physical surroundings, their schedules, or the workplace atmosphere, all contribute to their work environment. For example, some people can only thrive when their surroundings are very well-organized, while others may not be bothered by some degree of disorganization.

It is important for you to be able to identify the kind of environment you desire, or even need, in order to function to your greatest potential. Understanding this can help you as you evaluate various career opportunities that come your way.

YOUR PRIORITIES FOR THE 12 VALUES THAT RELATE TO WORK ENVIRONMENT

CONSIDER THE TOP 4 AS IMPORTANT CRITERIA FOR EVALUATING POTENTIAL OCCUPATIONS AND POSITIONS

1. Flexible Hours

set your own

Being able to set your work schedule around other activities is highly regarded by you. Look for career opportunities in which you have some control over the hours of your work and in which you will have a flexible schedule.

2. Harmony

You enjoy a harmonious, agreeable work environment. Look for occupations in which you can work with little confrontation, in harmony with your coworkers and boss and with a considerate team of individuals.

3. Clean Environment

In your work, look for occupations that do not require you to get dirty or be exposed to strong odors. You enjoy a clean, orderly, and sanitary work environment. Your ideal work situation is one in which the environment and job duties allow you to stay neat and clean all day.

4. Stability

You enjoy working in an environment of consistency, an established routine, and no surprises. You value regular hours, steady salary, and a schedule that does not change.

but extroverted & unstructured.

can you explain more?

- I know what I do, I'm master it more to time spend, management that is unstructured.

4.2 Values: Work Outcome

Although most people have a number of expected rewards from their work, it is important to decide what is most important. For instance, more education and higher income typically go together, but beyond a certain level continuing education may not correlate with a higher income. Likewise, having a leadership position does not always enhance one's security. Whether we think about it or not, most of us have to make tough choices in this area.

It's very important that you recognize that your priorities are an individual matter. Allowing someone else to exert too much influence over work values is one of the biggest mistakes people make in choosing a career field. This is your opportunity to think through this critical area and make sure you know what is really important to you.

YOUR PRIORITIES FOR THE 8 OUTCOME VALUES THAT YOU EXPECT FROM YOUR WORK

THESE OUTCOMES ARE THE MOST IMPORTANT TO YOU

1. High Income

You value being highly rewarded financially for your efforts at work. To feel successful in your work, you believe a high-income level is a necessary factor.

2. Security

You prefer to have the assurance that you have a job that will be around for a long period of time. Some career opportunities still have a measure of security; however, keep in mind that they are on the decline. Job security is now much more dependent on your ability to continually develop your skills to meet the changing workplace.

3. Recognition → MOTIVATOR to do work better

You are willing to work hard in order to be known as someone who has made his or her mark. Recognition of accomplishment is a big motivator for you, so analyze potential occupational choices carefully to be sure that a clearly defined rewards system is present.

4. Career Progression

You are interested in occupations that offer a well-defined progression of career positions. You enjoy moving up in the organization by increasing your responsibility and authority at work. Look for job settings that offer a chance to grow and develop as a professional.

4.3 Values: Life Values

This area is important to career planning because many people find it difficult to align the way they live and work with their life values. The fast pace of life, the strains of financial overcommitment, and the complexity of life in this time cause many to feel like it's all they can do just to hang on each day.

Experience shows, however, that people who thoughtfully decide on a life purpose and then make career choices that contribute to that goal have a unique peace and sense of fulfillment about their work. Your top four items that relate to life purpose are listed below.

YOU PRIORITIZED 9 VALUES THAT RELATE TO LIFE PURPOSE

LISTED BELOW ARE YOUR TOP 4 LIFE PRIORITIES

1. Friends

Making and keeping friendships is an important part of your life. You enjoy spending time with close friends, helping them when they need you, and building and developing new friendships. You value a lifestyle that allows time to get away from responsibilities and to enjoy time with close friends and acquaintances.

2. Leisure

Having time for entertainment and recreation are important values in your life. You enjoy a career setting in which you have time away from work to pursue other interests or hobbies. Look for career opportunities that allow you time to enjoy other pursuits and give you adequate time to relax and enjoy life.

3. Money

You believe accumulating wealth is an essential part of your happiness. You probably value a lifestyle in which you are able to have frequent vacations, live in a nice home, and drive nice automobiles, or perhaps you want to be a very generous provider to others and to charitable causes you support.

4. Faith

You have indicated that your life mission involves serving God in everything you do. It will be very important for you to see how your work is contributing to that goal. Remember that all occupations offer the opportunity to serve Him. Kindness and a commitment to excellence can be an attractive light for others in the workplace.

4.4: Values: Conclusion

FIND THE RIGHT BALANCE IN YOUR VALUES

No one is perfect; Superman and Wonder Woman do not exist, and you will never be able to do everything to the level you would like. Everyone must work out a balance in life. By considering your priorities, you will be able to find a comfortable balance in the use of your time, energy, and financial resources. Referring to your priority lists will help you to meet your stated life purpose values.

EXPECT YOUR VALUES TO CHANGE

These are your priorities and you can change them any time you want. Most people will find that they do change some of their priorities as they age and their family situations change. It is a good idea to save this report for future reference. A periodic review will enable you to make update and see how well you are sticking with your priorities.

WHAT DO I DO NOW?

Compare the stages of your career development to driving cross-country on a family vacation. There are two distinct stages. Stage one consists of conducting all the necessary research and planning to make the vacation enjoyable. Stage two consists of actually getting into the car, backing out of the driveway, and starting out.

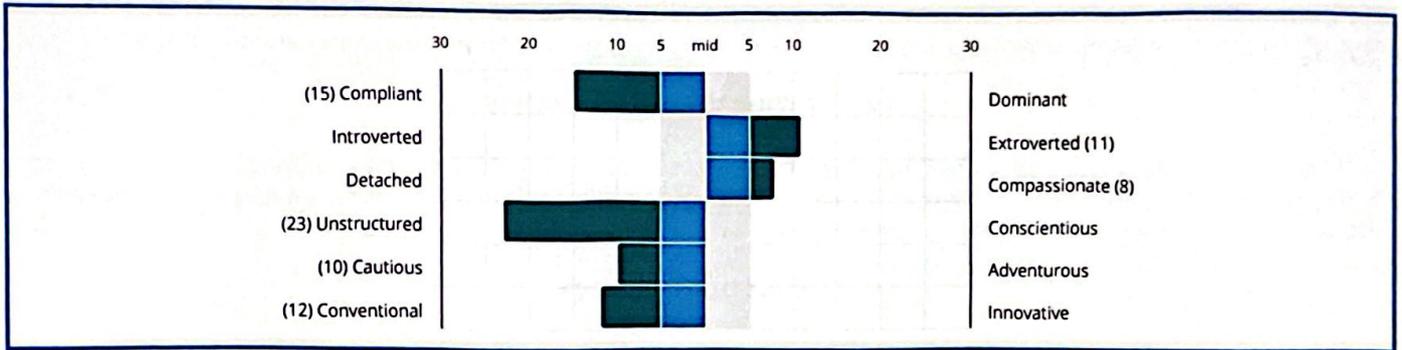

Reading through your CAREER DIRECT report is comparable to studying a road atlas in the first stage of planning the trip. It offers you a broad overview of the general directions to your destination, along with some alternative routes to get you there. However, just reading the report will not solve your career dilemma any more than simply reading a road map will actually get you to your vacation destination.

You now find yourself at stage two. It is time for you to climb into the driver's seat and begin your career journey. Your first step is to assimilate your information into plans and decisions that will get you started. To assist you in this key step, we have provided the Action Plan, a guide to interpreting and acting on what you have learned about your pattern for work. It is extremely important that you process through it completely. I will help you to match your pattern with various occupations and educational training programs.

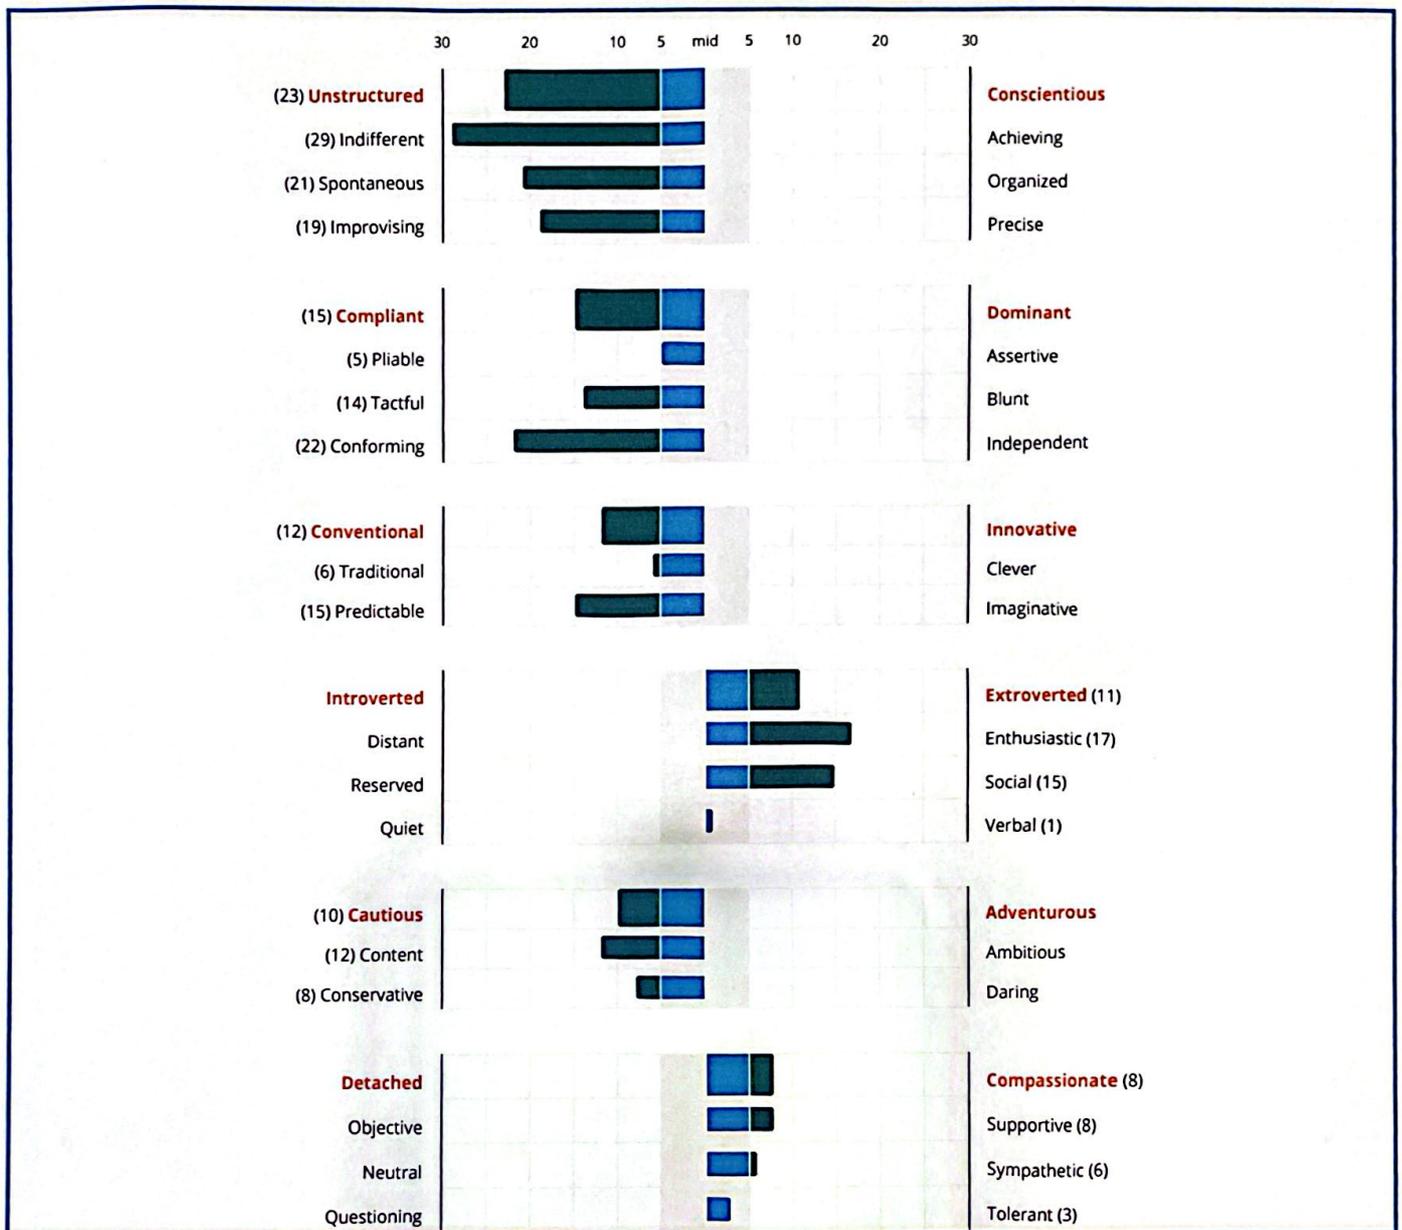

Above all else, don't forget that the basic goal in career planning is to match your talents and interests to the requirements of your work. In doing so, you will have the highest likelihood of reaching your destination and career that fits you.

Congratulations on completing your Career Direct assessment and working through your Detailed Report!

Foundational Principles Necessary for Wise Decision Making

- Aligning your design with your career is a life-long responsibility enabling work to be an unfolding, relational journey. Don't look at your life work as a series of transactional events, such as only working for the paycheck. There is so much more to work than that!
- Your unique design is meant to be fully embraced, and understanding it is critical to discovering your life assignment. It will lead to success, fulfillment, wise decision making, and even healthier relationships!
- Invest faithfulness and tenacity as you study your Detailed Report further.
- Research possible career choices.
- Remember, the only foundation for a wise career choice is the one that honors your design and aligns with it.
  - Make sure your chosen career has that four-out-of-four design fit (Personality, Interests, Skills and Values).
  - Make a decision that honors and respects your individuality.
    - You can easily get off track if you choose a job solely or primarily for one of these reasons:
      - It's the easiest or first job offered.
      - It will make you the money you want to make.
      - It will give you the job title or prestige you seek.
      - It offers security, power and control.
      - You'll get to work with your friends.
      - It's in the "Hot Jobs" category.
      - You can follow in a parent's footsteps and/or fulfill their dreams.
      - You have the ability to do it (but you really don't like it much).

None of these should be a primary reason for choosing one job or career over another. Remember, you want to choose the option that aligns with all four of your dimensions of design. Every other consideration is secondary.
