

Today's action item:

Maybe you have significant stress about one area of your finances in particular – debt, retirement, mortgage, medical bills, your children’s education. Today, write down what stresses you out the most and surrender it to the Lord. Surrendering can be as simple as praying this prayer:

- Not having a job or enough income
- Running out of money
- Not being able to afford the condo expenses and repairs
- Not finding a company to work for that does not spread evil in the world

Lord, I know you do not require me to be stressed about my money all the time. I believe you have given me all the resources I have and I want to be a faithful steward to manage it all well. I’m struggling with wanting to hold on to the condo and standard of living and need to surrender it to you. Help me to give it up to you and not take it back. Give me the strength to not be in control and to trust you to provide for my needs. Thank you for your blessings and provision. Amen.
