1. Describe your outstanding personality characteristics (relevant to nursing) possessed at the completion of the program:

Some of the characteristics I feel that I possess at the completion of this program are being able to manage my time much better when caring for my patients, I have been able to gain more confidence in myself when it comes to dealing with a patient's disease process, and I have also been able to establish rapport with patients and their families.

2. Describe your special interests and abilities in nursing:

One of the biggest interests that I have in nursing is helping to deliver babies as well as take care of the mother and babies postpartum. I think that an ability that I have that will help me go far is that I am a quick learner. I also do not like to work in a room that has clutter everywhere, so I try to organize everything before I start so that it is easier to function.

3. Discuss your experiences with interpersonal relationships – faculty and staff, patients and their families, and members of the healthcare team throughout the nursing program:

At the beginning of this program, I did not have a lot of confidence in myself, and I feel that I was hesitant to share my thoughts. I was an active listener but rarely felt comfortable to express my thoughts. Quickly I found that the instructors were advocates for me to be successful. As the first semester progressed, I found I was able to open up more with the instructors and other students. I felt that the classroom was a safe environment for me to be able to ask questions and share times of happiness and times of frustration. I always tried to separate my own personal strifes or emotions for the day when I was with patients and their families. I wanted them to feel safe in my care and enable them to disclose things about themselves so that I could better care for them. As I come to the end of the program, I definitely look forward to being able to project a new confidence that I did not know existed in me.

4. Participation in activities throughout the program:

Some of the activities that I have participated in throughout the program are donating hygiene products to the mothers and families in need, helping volunteer at the ability works talent show, attended many different BSN student presentations, I also volunteered in helping with marketing photo day.

5. Explain at least 2 professional goals you would like to achieve during your nursing career:

The first goal that I would like to achieve during my career is obtaining my BSN shortly after I get my nursing degree. I would also like to become a labor and delivery nurse at some point in my nursing career since it is something that I am so passionate about. Another goal that I would like to achieve is becoming a lactation consultant since it is something that has always interested me and I feel that a lactation consultant is a huge asset to these families, and I want to be able to give that to them.
