1. Describe your outstanding personality characteristics (relevant to nursing) possessed at the completion of the program:

My personality characteristics possessed at the completion of this program are empathy, patience, strong communication skills, critical thinking, adaptability, team-oriented, compassionate and resilience.

2. Describe your special interests and abilities in nursing:

I have a deep interest in advocating for the well-being of patients, ensuring they are not only treated for their medical conditions but also emotionally supported throughout their healing journey. I'm passionate about building trusting relationships with patients, where they feel comfortable sharing their concerns and fears. I believe in holistic care; treating the whole person, addressing physical, emotional, social, and spiritual needs. I have a strong interest in educating patients and their families, helping them understand their health conditions and treatment plans.

3. Discuss your experiences with interpersonal relationships – faculty and staff, patients and their families, and members of the healthcare team throughout the nursing program:

My interactions with faculty and staff have been both supportive and educational. The faculty provided a wealth of knowledge, and I valued their feedback and mentorship throughout my clinical experiences. My interactions with patients and their families were the most rewarding and impactful part of my nursing education. I had the opportunity to practice empathy, active listening, and patient-centered care. One of the most important lessons I learned was how crucial it is to build trust with patients and their families. Interacting with members of the healthcare team was an important part of my nursing education. These experiences taught me the value of teamwork and how essential it is to respect everyone's role on the team.

4. Participation in activities throughout the program:

One of the most important activities throughout my nursing program was the clinical rotations. These experiences provided me with real-world exposure to patient care and allowed me to apply the knowledge I learned in the classroom. Another key activity that contributed to my development was participating in simulation labs. Simulation allowed me to practice my clinical judgment, improve my decision-making under pressure, and work on my communication with simulated patients and healthcare teams. I also participated in the Senior Mentor program, allowing me to provide mentoring and support to the junior nursing students.

5. Explain at least 2 professional goals you would like to achieve during your nursing career:

One of my primary goals is to further my education by obtaining an advanced degree, such as Bachelor's of Science in Nursing (BSN) or a Master of Science in Nursing (MSN). I would also like to eventually specialize in a certain area of nursing. Another important goal is to grow into a leadership role within healthcare. Whether it's taking on a leadership position within a hospital unit or becoming involved in nursing policy. I aim to be an active advocate for nursing practice and policies that promote the well-being of both patients and healthcare providers.
