Dear, Kellie Deeter

I wanted to write this letter in regards to the Pro-life movement that you are an advocate for. While working in healthcare and going through nursing school it has been something that has been such a big situation in in today's society. I wanted to reach out and in hopes that you are able to look at the other side of the party such as abortion rights and making sure that every Women has a right to their body. You have experience as a certified registered nurse anesthetist (CRNA) and I am not sure what you have endured during your time as a CRNA or nurse but would like to advocate for the rights for women that didn't have a voluntary choice in asking for a pregnancy. I do know that your intention's behind pro-life aren't wrong as you want to protect the most vulnerable amongst us but as a healthcare worker bias should be set aside.

Abortion is something that is a growing topic as the years go by but would like to explore your view on you're the pro-life movement as well. There are several different types of abortions and some as you may know are done for life saving measures so one should try and not look at all abortions as a horrid procedure in some lights. There should be some freedom given to those who want to stand up against the abortion movements in the surrounding county but also pro-life just as long as its peaceful and help educate one another on each topic. As we know especially with nursing education is a powerful tool so staying up to date and decreasing the confusion may help alleviate some tension. I would like to see more on this topic be brought up since this can be very helpful in the healthcare community but also public society.

I hope to be able to reach this letter to you and I appreciate the time given to look through some of the points I brought up. You are a strong woman and have a lot of knowledge behind you so I know that you will be very open in discussing this topic. Waiting to hear from you soon!

Take care,

Josh Hernandez
